Will Tips Cal to Emulate Lindy Upon His Visits

(Special To The News)

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 17. — The president made a good speech. He didn't say that we would do anything for these countries, but on the other hand he didn't say that we would do anything against them. So it was what you might call a conservative speech. He was an hour late arriving here and a half hour late to deliver his speech.

Now here is a tip for him if he is going to be an ambassador. Lindbergh, the best ambassador in the world, is never late. If he says, I will arrive in Siberia at 3:30 at 3:29 he will be there. So no man, even a president, can do better than to follow the example of Lindbergh.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Guard Confessed Slayer Of Child From Flint Mob

Slayer Is Taken To Ionia, Mich., And Is Strongly Guarded

TAKEN LAST NIGHT; CONFESSION REPORTED

Cause Of Unspeakable Crime Of Slaying Five-Year-Old Girl Is Unknown

(International News Service)

IONIA, Mich., Jan. 17.—Adolph Hotelling, gentlemannered church elder and self-confessed murderer of five-year-old Dorothy Schneider, calmly discussed plans to fight conviction today after arising from a sound sleep in Ionia prison and eating a hearty breakfast with apparent relish.

His jailers declared he appared unconcerned as if he were in the pew of his church.

Hotelling was brought here from Flint to escape mob vengeance.

To Fight Conviction

Pending the arrival of his attorney, William A. Sigmiller, of Owosso, Hotelling did not talk at any length of his plans, but he made it plain he intends to fight conviction and will

Kills Wife And Self; Wounds Three Children

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Salvatore Salci, 47, shot and killed his wife, Tessie, in their home in Corona early today and then killed himself after wounding his three step-children, the children, Antoinette Vennetitoo, 12, her sister Edna, 13, and her brother, Salvatore, 5, were taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

Neighbors said Salci and his wife had quarreled before the shooting.

HUNT MISSING COLLEGE GIRL IN CONNECTICUT

(International News Service)

BRISTOL, Conn., Jan. 17. — The search for Miss Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith College freshman, shifted to this city today following the statement of George Ward, a local attorney, that he had seen a young woman here on Sunday afternoon who resembled the vanished eighteen-year-old girl.

Ward said that while driving along the Deerfield road between Hartford and Bristol, he offered a "lift" to a well-dressed girl who was walking toward Bristol. According to Ward, she replied:

FRANCES ST. J. SMITH

"Are you looking for me?"

Ward, somewhat surprised, answered in the negative. Later, after seeing Miss Smith's picture in a newspaper, he became positive that the girl was the student for whom hundreds of persons have been searching near Northampton, Mass.

Earlier in the afternoon two clerks and a woman in a Hartford drug store noticed a girl resembling Miss Smith. Her clothing resembled that of the missing student in every detail, they said.

Detectives today began a thorough search of the Bristol district.

Railroad Men From District Assemble Here

Two Hundred P. & L. E. Men Have Meeting Monday Night At The Castleton

FORECAST BETTER BUSINESS IN 1928

Officials Of Railroad Take Part In Program Of Enthusiastic Nature

Approximately two hundred agents and officers of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad Company met here Monday evening, January 16, when the regular meeting of the Agents Association was held in "The Castleton." They came from Pittsburgh, from McKees Rocks, from Youngstown and from the way points between these towns. In spirit the meeting might have been compared to a college fraternity gathering for there was present a very genuine air of enthusiasm and fraternalism.

Dinner came before any business and the railroaders gave the meal the right of way. Following that, F. C. Smith, president, called the meeting to order and introduced the special guests of the evening. Among them were listed Mayor William H. Gillespie, Ex-Judge J. Norman Martin, Ex-Mayor Fred L. Rentz. Mayor Gillespie welcomed the men to the city, spoke very favorably of the work of the P. & L. E. and its influence on the development of the city, and said that he hoped they would leave New Castle with a desire to return.

Speeches and Pictures

J. B. Yohe, vice president of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad was one of the honor guests of the evening and spoke briefly upon business conditions. He predicted a heavier volume of business for the P. & L. E. in 1928 and said that the road had already contracted for 10,000 tons of steel rail for placement this year. A note of optimism prevailed throughout his address.

Robert Touissant, chief of police for the company spoke on the "Proper Method of Taking and Maintaining Seal Records by the Yard Department."

E. E. Smith, general passenger agent and T. R. Fitzpatrick, general coal agent, spoke on methods of in-

Seventeen Fires Keep Washington Firemen On Jump

Start Man Hunt For Alleged Pyromaniac In Washington, D. C., Fire; Damage High

SIXTEEN FIREMEN SENT TO HOSPITALS

Arrest Suspect Found Near Scene Of Blaze; Capital Experiences Hectic Night

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Police pressed a vigorous man hunt today for the pyromaniac who started the worst series of fires in Washington's history.

The city was kept in an uproar during the night and early morning hours by seven major fires and 10 lesser ones and false alarms.

Damage was estimated at more than $500,000 and the figure may go higher.

Sixteen firemen were taken to hospitals suffering from exposure and smoke, but there was no loss of life.

Suspect Arrested

Police arrested John J. Fisher, 29, an ex-policeman, this morning, while the last fire was still burning. Fisher was trailed to his home after he was seen fleeing from the scene of the Pillsbury blaze. Police said he admitted being at all the fires, but he denied starting the blazes. He could not satisfactorily explain mud and tar on his clothing, police said.

Police declared Fisher recently received treatment at Walter Reed hospital as a psychopathic patient.

Summon Outside Aid

All fire apparatus was on the run since shortly after 11 o'clock last night. Ten companies and a deputy chief from Baltimore and all available fire-fighting units within 30 miles were summoned to help battle the fires.

All Washington fire and police reserves were called out.

Not since the Knickerbocker theater disaster when about 100 lives were snuffed out under a snow-laden roof has Washington experienced such a hectic night.

Police Maintain Vigil.

The unending shrieking of sirens and the clanging of bells aroused the city and thousands left their beds to follow the fires.

Hardly had apparatus been called

SIXTH PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS STARTS IN HAVANA, CUBA, TODAY

With Formalities And Courtesies Out Of Way, Delegates Get Down To Work

Plenty Of Conflicting Opinion In Conference Is Predicted By Observers

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, Jan. 17.—The sixth Pan-American conference, which is fraught with enormous possibility for good or evil so far as relations with Latin-America are concerned, got down to serious business today. The amenities, the toasts, the official courtesies, are ended.

For two days temperamental Havana and, in fact, all Latin-America has rendered homage to the President of the United States in a manner without precedent or parallel in international relations. President Coolidge has been feted and dined and acclaimed such as no man ever was in the Queen City of the Caribbean country. Latin-American statesmen have vied with each other to do him honor.

But that part of the sixth conference of Pan-American states ended today when President Coolidge stepped aboard the U. S. Cruiser Memphis on the return trip to Washington. From now on, as one delegate phrased it, "the fightin' begins."

That there will be plenty of conflicting opinion in this sixth conference is generally anticipated by the ninety-odd delegates. The American military occupation of Nicaragua, the effort of some of the Latin-American states to make political questions as part of the program, and finally the growing national consciousness of these same Latin-American states, all are expected to provide the fuel for the fire.

Distinguished Delegation

It is to quench, or at least to control that fire that the United States Government has sent to Havana the most distingueshed delegation that has ever represented the country in headed by Charles Evans Hughes, and

Mrs. J. J. Dean Dies Suddenly

Lincoln Avenue Woman Expires At Home Early This Morning

New Castle residents were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Nellie M. Ally Dean, widow of J. J. Dean, late well known citizen and prominent business man of this city, which occurred Tuesday morning at 1:30 at her home, 326 East Lincoln avenue.

Although Mrs. Dean had been ill for about four weeks her death was unexpected. She contracted pneumonia the week following Christmas but had recovered enough to be about her home.

She seemed to be as well as usual when she retired Monday evening and did not complain of feeling any worse. Her condition became critical in the night and she passed away at an early hour this morning.

Mrs. Dean was born in Bellville, O., a daughter of John and Mary Ally. She had been a resident of New Castle for over 40 years and was one of the best known and highly esteemed women of this city.

She had always taken a great interest in the religious and social life of the community. She was an active and faithful member of the First Christian church and was associated with the various societies of the church. She was also a member of the Current Events Class, Woman's club, Educational Art club and on the board of the Almira Home and Y. W. C. A.

Her husband, the late J. J. Dean to whom she was married over 40 years ago preceded her in death about three years ago.

Mrs. Dean is survived by one sister Mrs. L. B. Dodson of Indianapolis, Ind., and two brothers, Harry and John Ally of Mansfield, O. and a number of nephews and nieces.

Funeral services will be announced later arrangements being delayed pending the arrival of relatives.

Two Wheeling Men Are Under Bond In Liquor Smuggling

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—Charged with violating the national prohibition law, Harry Gee, wealthy manufacturer of Wheeling, W. Va., and Dr. Joseph Meagher, also of Wheeling, head of the Industrial Relations association of Wheeling and vice president of the Ohio coal operators, today were free under bond, according to information obtained at the office of Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington.

The charge involved the seizure of five barrels of whiskey and wines here as it was being loaded on a truck from a railroad car.

Meagher, it was charged, arranged for the shipping of the liquor from Newark, N. J., as a consignment of "syrup" shipped by the "Newark Syrup company" to the "American Syrup Products company."

FALSE ALARM.

Firemen were called to Washington and Allen streets this morning about 1:10 by an alarm from box 45. The alarm proved to be false as no fire could be found in the district.

DEATH RECORD

Mrs. Nellie M. Dean, 326 East Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. Ethel Alles Looney, 19, 602 West Washington street.

Mrs. Elizabeth Blair, 86, North Side, Pittsburgh.

William Barker Robison, 59, Pittsburgh.

Confusion Reigns In Nicaragua As Politicians Row

Political Confusion In Nicaragua Equals That Of Armed Conflict

More Marines Expected To Be Landed At Managua In Next Few Days

(International News Service)

MANAGUA, Jan. 17.—While advance guards of the marines are establishing contact with General Sandino's rebels, and some skirmishes are reported in which the rebels have suffered small losses, the political situation in Managua is becoming more confused.

There are now prospects of a bitter political fight in the Nicaraguan assembly over the passage of the electoral law, which would give Americans full control of the supervision of the next national elections. The passage of this law was one of the conditions of the Stimson peace terms, but opposition has arisen and there is now some doubt as to whether it can be adopted in its present form.

President Diaz is reported to be unhappy over the present political situation, and with the possibility of a defeat in the assembly staring him in the face, the reports of his willingness to resign are gaining strength.

Major General LeJeune, commandant of the marines, who has arrived here, declares that his mission and that of the men under him is entirely peaceful.

Further marine reinforcements are expected within a few days.

Coolidge Party Leaves Havana Bound For Home

President Coolidge's Visit To Havana, Cuba, Ends This Morning

(International News Service)

HAVANA, Jan. 17.—President Coolidge's visit to Cuba came to an end today when he left for home on the cruiser Memphis at 7:45 o'clock. The President's visit to this city to address the Pan American Congress proved a pronounced success. Both Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were given continuous ovations when they appeared in public. They were impressed by the warmth of their reception both in this city and outside when they went sightseeing.

Reed Committee Asks Senate To Exclude Smith

Reed Slush Fund Committee Asks Senate To Exclude Smith From Seat In Senate

REPORT FILED BY SENATOR REED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Reed Slush Fund Committee today asked the Senate to exclude Senator-Elect Frank L. Smith (R) of Illinois, and to declare his seat in the Senate vacant.

In a final report, the committee submitted a resolution of expulsion against Smith and urged its immediate adoption. This verdict against Smith was reached, the committee reported, because of the expenditure of $458,782 in his behalf in the Illinois Senatorial campaign of 1926, and because $203,000 was contributed to his campaign by the "officers of large public service institutions doing business in Illinois."

The report was filed by Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, chairman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Final action on the Smith election case was delayed by the Senate until tomorrow on motion of Senator Curtis (R) of Kansas, majority floor leader, when debate on the Reed committee's report was started on the floor this afternoon. The Reed report demanded the immediate and final exclusion of Senator-Elect Frank L. Smith (R) of Illinois on slush fund charges.

Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, urged that the final vote be delayed until he and other interested senators had time to study the report in full.

"The victim is at the door," Senator Moses (R) of New Hampshire responded, "and the guillotine is greased, so why delay the execution?"

Senator Reed agreed that full opportunity should be given for debate.

Curtis' motion was then adopted on a viva voce vote.

Council To Study Building Ordinance

Couty Council will meet informally at 10 a. m. Wednesday to study the building code which has been introduced as an ordinance and is now resting in committee.

Probabilities are that persons interested in construction will be present.

Wealthy Couple Plan Marriage

ALEC FOX BANQUET ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Committee Makes Plans To Honor Local Boy, New Pitt Captain

Program For Testimonial Banquet Is Now Being Arranged

Following up the suggestion that a testimonial banquet be held in honor of Alec Fox, captain-elect of the Pitt football team for 1928, football fans met in the Sporting Goods Store on Monday evening and outlined plans for the affair.

It is to be held Saturday evening, January 21 in The Castleton at seven o'clock. Tickets will be two dollars each and Alec Samuels is getting them printed today. Because of the lack of accommodations, the crowd will be limited to 200 and fans who intend going should get in touch with Eddie Connery or Alec Samuels immediately. At the meeting Monday evening 78 tickets were underwritten.

To Be a Real Affair

While the time is short for the arrangements to be completed, nothing will be left undone to make it a real affair. It is thought that Coach Jock Sutherland and Tommy Davies, former All-American half back will be present and the Pitt alumni in the city is expected to be present in strength.

I'm sitting here just thinking of some quiet little spot, where it is never very cold, nor never very hot. There is a cottage builded there, with lilacs just outside, and in the clambering roses there, the thrush and robin hide. There is a long lane winding down a wide lawn to a spring, and early morning hears the lark and other songsters sing. And shady elms with leafy bows provide a shady nook, where one can sit and listen to the murmurings of a brook. A few good books, a pipe or two, and friends to gather there, to while away the passing hours and smother weary care. Where is the spot, I do not know, and likewise cannot say, it's just a picture I have drawn, its thirty-four today.

Struggle Starts For Control Of Lehigh Railroad

Stockholders Meet Today To Determine Future Policy Of Company

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—The struggle for control of the Lehigh Valley railroad with its $240,000,000 assets entered into its final stages today with the annual meeting here of the stockholders to vote whether the present management and policy of the road shall be continued.

The voting started shortly after 10 o'clock, then recessed until afternoon, when the votes will be tabulated.

One group, composed of E. T. Stotesbury, a large stockholder and former director of the company, George F. Baker of the First National Bank and E. E. Loomis, president of the road, are opposed by L. F. Loree and his followers, who hope to make the Lehigh Valley a link in a new eastern trunk line co-operating with the Pennsylvania railroad.

Burned Man Is Now Improving

William Dunlap of North Cedar street, severely burned Monday in attempting to put out a fire in the home of his son-in-law W. J. Klingensmith, was reported today by the New Castle hospital authorities as showing some improvement. He spent a rather quiet night. It is believed that he did not inhale any of the flames and that he will recover.

James Blanning Is Seen In Pictures

James Blanning, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. In the election of officers which occurred, G. L. Sauer was elected president; F. L. Foster, vice president; H. C. Barr, secretary, and the following directors: F. C. Smith, G. C. Schuck, Arthur Shield, R. B. Hanna, R. S. Hervey and C. C. Dindinger.

The arrangements for last night's affair were in charge of George Hamilton, local ticket agent and W. A. Stone, local freight agent for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad. It was an enjoyable affair, one of the best meetings of its kind the organization has held and the agents of the road were complimentary in their remarks of the manner in which it was handled.

WALLIS TO SPEAK IN CITY TONIGHT

New York Man To Make Address In First M. E. Church On "Crime Correction"

FREDERICK A. WALLIS
Commissioner of Correction of the City of New York

Hon. Frederick A. Wallis, deputy police commissioner and commissioner of correction in New York City, will speak tonight in the First M. E. church on "Crime Correction". The meeting will begin at eight o'clock.

Mr. Wallis spoke to a large an interested audience in the Scottish Rite Cathedral last May and was so well received that he has been prevailed upon to make this return engagement.

His subject tonight could have no greater appeal to the people of New Castle, for the problem of how to correct crime is one of the biggest things our nation is facing at the present time. His address should have a special appeal to parents, for criminality among the youth of our land seems steadily growing.

Mr. Wallis addressed the students at the Ben Franklin junior high school this morning and this afternoon spoke at Rev. S. R. Maitland's anniversary at Greenwood M. E.

It is through the courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce that Mr. Wallis comes to New Castle in his second appearance here. Last May he spoke to the citizens at the Scottish Rite Cathedral under the auspices of the Ministerial Association.

Mr. Wallis is registered at "The Castleton".

Sigmiller, a representative of the state attorney general's office, and Prosecutor Will Roberts of Genessee were to confer late today on the next step.

Governor Fred W. Green, who is directing the state's prosecution, hopes the churchman will stand by his confession, plead guilty and be immediately sentenced to prison.

No Coercion

"There was no coercion, and he made his confession of his own free will," Governor Green said. "If he has any sense at all he should realize the best thing for him is to plead guilty and accept a life sentence. Later, if he wants an examination for insanity, he can be examined in prison. If found insane he can be transferred to the hospital for the criminal insane at Ionia.

Whether Hotelling can be arraigned in Ionia county or must be returned to Genessee is a point not yet determined. If the law requires his return to Genessee he will be smuggled across the county line to some isolated, unnamed spot and arraigned there.

Under no circumstances will he be returned to Flint, where an enraged mob of 15,000 persons stormed the jail last night with howling demand for his life.

Hotelling twice attempted suicide during the night, but with the break of dawn he appeared quite composed.

He was the only person directly concerned with the case who passed a night of calm sleep. It was a night of terror, of mobs, of hurried flights with Hotelling from Flint to Lansing and thence to Ionia, where the murderer was lodged behind the prison walls.

Mob Demands Life

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 17.—Adolph Hotelling, confessed kidnaper and fiend-slayer of five-year-old Dorothy Schneider, is hidden away in a strong cell at the state reformatory at Ionia, Mich., according to word here today.

The 47-year-old murderer, who was arrested late yesterday at his home at Owosso, was rushed to Lansing after a mob of 10,000 enraged citizens stormed the jail here and demanded his life.

The move from Lansing to the Ionia reformatory was made when authorities learned another mob was forming at the capital.

Hotelling is married and the father of five children, two of them married daughters. He was an elder of the Church of Christ, at Owosso.

Unspeakable Atrocity.

Hotelling's crime was one of the unspeakable atrocities that normal human beings can only shudder at but never understand. In its details are many striking parallels of the notorious Hickman case in Los Angeles.

Hotelling confessed while enroute with his captors from Owosso, his home, to the Flint jail. He said he had driven his car to Flint to look for work and he was cruising thrcugh Mount Morris, a suburb, when he saw the little Schneider girl.

"I don't know why I did it," he said.

"I took her in the machine and drove around awhile. Then I carried her into a thicket, cut up her body and hid it down in the creek."

Aided By Farmer.

Hotelling then told of coming back to his car and finding it stuck in the mud. A farmer, he said, helped him out, after which he returned to his home at Owosso.

This farmer, Archie Bacon, who unwittingly aided the slayer, was the first to report the incident to police after the girl's body was found near his home. He has identified Hotelling as the man he helped out of the mud.

A large blood-stained knife, which Hotelling is said to have admitted using to kill the girl, was found on his person, according to arresting officers.

Slain Last Thursday.

The little girl was kidnaped and slain last Thursday. Since that time the greatest man hunt in the history of Michigan had been under way. The tip that finally led to the guilty man's arrest came from Sheldon Robinson, a Mount Morris carpenter. Hotelling is also a carpenter.

Robinson told police he had been working with a man at Flushing, who, he believed, was the man they wanted. He said he talked continually about the crime and boasted that when the rewards were great enough he would "tell them just where to find the murderer."

Deputy sheriffs from Flint speeded to Flushing, but found Hotelling had left the job there. They hastened on to Owosso and found the middle aged man sitting comfortably at home with his wife and five children.

"It looked like a poor tip," one of the deputies said later, but Hotelling's demeanor was anything but reassuring, so we looked around. We found the decrepit sedan described by Farmer Bason and then we felt we were on the right track."

Mrs. Hotelling, the slayer's wife, broke down and sobbed that she was sure her husband "couldn't have done this thing."

The arrest was a shock to his fellow citizens who, despite the broadcasting of descriptions of the slayer's car, never suspected him.

Mob Gathers.

When news of his arrest and incarceration in the Flint jail went the rounds, citizens from Flint and nearby towns began to gather. The crowd grew around the jail to the number of 10,000. They demanded that the prisoner be delivered to them.

Their rushes on the jail were repelled by tear gas bombs, meanwhile a call for state troops went out and Hotelling was spirited to Lansing. Finally jail officials persuaded the leaders to appoint a committee to inspect the jail and assure themselves that the slayer was not there.

This was done, but even then the crowd was reluctant to disperse.

Michigan has a state law against capital punishment. For this reason the mob, made up mostly of factory workers, were determined to lynch the murderer.

Under the Michigan law, Hotelling must be brought back to Genesee county, where the crime occurred, for arraignment. He will be kept at Ionia, it was said, until feeling subsides and it will be safe to return him.

Alleged Confession.

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 17.—The confession of Adolph Hotelling, kidnaper-slayer of 5-year-old Dorothy Schneider at Mt. Morris last Thursday follows:

"I was hanging around Flint looking for work. Last Thursday I was driving along the Dixie highway when I saw a little girl I did not know. I stopped the car and asked her to come in. I said I would take her home.

"She didn't want to come, but I took her in the car. She pleaded with me to let her go home. She said she would tell her mother and father on me if I didn't let her go.

"I drove down the Stanley road and then down a mud road. She was crying. I have never been down that road before.

"I stopped the car and took her in my arms and lifted her over the fence. She was still crying. She kept telling me that she would have her parents after me.

"I got her down to the creek, she was still crying and pleading with me to let her go home.

"I don't know why I did it. I took out my knife and stabbed her twice, and cut her up. I don't know what came over me or made me do it.

"The Hickman case preyed on my mind. It kept me awake night after night. I thought of the crime all the time. Thought of giving myself up Saturday."

SEVENTEEN FIRES KEEP WASHINGTON FIREMEN ON JUMP

to the first fire before another general alarm came in, then another. Fire Chief Watson realized he couldn't stop the blazes with his present force. A hurry call was sent to Baltimore. Ten companies drove the 40 miles to Washington in an hour. As additional alarms poured into headquarters, appeal for help went to nearby Maryland and Virginia suburbs. They responded promptly.

Police and fire chiefs agreed that the fires were of incendiary origin.

At 3 o'clock police sent out a dragnet to bring in all suspicious persons. One boy was caught but after severe questioning by police was turned loose.

The maniac deliberately picked out highly inflammable buildings to touch off the wires. Most of the blazes were in the downtown section but as police guards were thrown around this small area smaller fires broke out in the outlying districts.

SHORT-LIVED IDOLS

COUNTLESS books have been written and reams of advise dispensed on how to achieve success. It is odd that so little is said about what is really far more important, namely: how to hold success once you have won it.

This is really a vital question in America where the avenues to fame are broad and numerous, but where public applause is being constantly transferred from one subject to another. Many people get their names on the front page once, but so few of them keep it there.

The man who makes a million today may with the same facility and a corresponding turn of luck become a pauper tomorrow. The man who is chosen president of a company for a particular piece of work must continue to produce every day if he is to hold his job. The author whose novel joins the best sellers must keep on writing best sellers to keep his name in the literary limelight.

Not infrequently individuals mistake appearances of success for success itself. The public must have its idols and nobody knows this better than the publicity man. And no sooner has the publicity man created one idol than he discards it to begin the creation of a new one.

So long as the American public is fickle, so long as its taste demands variety in the place of long-established quality and so long as the machinery for turning out idols is superior to the material at hand, success for most people is likely to be short and sweet. When popular worship forsakes a channel swimmer for a transoceanic flier the action is more eloquent than words.

WHAT IS IN YOUR ATTIC?

A LARGE attic was considered a necessary part of a family residence during the development days in this land. The good people felt that attics should be large and roomy and the older homes all over the land were so planned. Economic pressure has changed the ideas, reduced the size and number of rooms, nearly eliminated the attics in residence construction in cities. But elsewhere attics still thrive.

Some of these fine old homes have been remodeled and attics have been made into apartments, with a fine resultant income. In other homes the attics still are storage places for extra articles or those used no longer. Earlyday customs did not contemplate the sale or destruction of articles not used. They went to the attic, passing years brought other articles, a strange medley was collected. Old furniture, dishes, books cast aside, great piles of magazines, all the miscellaneous articles collected around a family home, used and then pushed aside.

Probably no owner of an old family home has any definite idea of the number and variety of articles peacefully reposing in the attic, many left there by members of a former generation. The owner will realize all that has been collected if the family moves or decides to clean up the attic. Ten years' accumulation is large, well covered with dust and cobwebs, but there are homes where attic collections have been under way for two or three times 10 years. Cleaning out such attics would be a gigantic task.

Charity organizations have need of old furniture, could repair the broken, patch up the rest and help outfit a home where unfortunate people dwell. But the custom of cleaning out attics never has been introduced. The task is done but seldom and by few. The attic accumulation goes on and on.

Attics thus filled are a real fire hazard, a menace to the home, clearing them out would be a government toward conservation of property, perhaps conservation of life. But who is going to undertake that dusty and disagreeable task, who is ready to toss aside the accumulation? Custom becomes a strong law, generations have filled the attics, and we follow on.

ACTORS FAVOR CLEAN PLAYS

AN INTERESTING discussion in New York the other day regarding the present-day stage was participated in by a number of prominent actors and managers. The concensus of opinion was that actors as a rule were strongly in favor of clean, wholesome plays as opposed to the objectionable shows which come to public attention now and then.

Daniel Frohman in his little talk traced the development of the stage from Elizabethan times, showing how it had been affected by successive waves of reform and looseness. He was confident that the present condition of the stage was only temporary, and that within a short time it would again reach its normal high plane. John Golden, Rachel Crothers, Elsie Ferguson, Deems Taylor and George Abbott spoke on similar lines. Miss Ferguson said that before the theatre could be cleansed the public must first manifest a real desire to be rid of the immoral and the salacious.

What many persons overlook in discussing this subject is that we have many admirable plays, well acted, and that they receive generous patronage from playlovers. There is hardly any lack of wholesome shows, and the fact that this kind have long and profitable runs is a proof of the wisdom of those who produce them.

In Day's News

Every now and then a so-called soldier-of-fortune springs up to amaze the world with his romantic adventures and achievements. One of these is General Frank Sutton an Englishman whose exploits in China have rivaled the most thrilling of tales told in novel or film. A one-time officer in the Royal Engineers, Sutton pulled up stakes in the home land and departed for the Far East in search of adventure and fortune. He found both. For six years he kept the Chinese civil war going by organizing the armies of Chang Tso-lin the northern war-lord. "One-armed Sutton" as he was known to his friends made $2,500,000 in five years by supplying the northern forces fith munitions. Chang gave him $50,000 as a parting present. Lady Luck continued with him. He went to Shanghai saw an announcement of a sweepstake, bought a ticket and won $125,000. Now the romantic adventurer has returned to England with his bulging purse.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:00. Sun rises tomorrow 7:21.

Girls used to be afraid something was showing below their skirts. Now they know there is.

President Coolidge will find Cuba a great country and he will find that Americans are well thought of there. The Cubans have not forgotten that Americans helped them out of a lot of trouble. One nice thing about Cuba is that only those born in that country can vote there. There are no naturalization courts in Cuba.

The judge of the Mercer county court has ruled that a baby cannot be held for its board. Some grown ups have a harder time getting away from a board bill than a baby does according to that.

Confidentially, Myrtle told us of a fellow she knows who goes with a girl possessing a canary bird appetite. She eats peck by peck.

During the past few days we have read of accounts where people listening on the radio were able to see the ones on the program broadcasting the stuff. We are wondering if there will be any advantage to see the birds who are telling about the fine bird seed their firms make and how nice it is to eat certain kinds of saw dust.

Respectable notoriety comes only with fame.

A Japanese house maid cut off part of her tongue to punish herself for some sin she had committed. We have been trying hard to think of a sin that would warrant such a mutilation of such a vital organ. No American girl would let a little thing like a sin get her goat—or rather tongue like that.

Will Rogers said a mouthful when he said "There are a lot of people in this country who should never be so absent minded as to refer to their sense of humor.

Writing a column like this makes the writer a lot of enemies. He writes something every day that hits some soft shelled chap and that bird immediately thinks it is a personal insult even if his name is not mentioned and the writer has no thought of him. We get hit as often as anyone in this column and we do not get sore. And think of the stuff we could write that really there would be no doubt about—and about a lot of people including ourselves. Wham de doodle wham!

In the old days we used to hear mother say "Now girls put on plenty of clothes and good warm stockings so you will not catch cold and get pneumonia or something." Mothers do not say that any more and do not do it themselves.

Some of the fiendish murderers in this country have tried to make their escape in queer colored automobiles we have noticed. One tried to get away in a queer green colored one, another in a mauve colored creation and another in a robin's egg blue colored cart. Busses of those colors would create suspicion most anywhere driven by any kind of a molly-coddle.

One thing the Cubans need not be afraid of while President Coolidge is in their country and that is that he will not steal anything. Uncle Sam never goes after anything except justice and mercy.

More blondes than brunettes are charged with murders we have noticed. That may be because men prefer blondes and blondes prefer to kill them. Some of them are not blondes very long after they get into jail also.

A mother can always find an excuse for what her children do in the way of crime. Kind heaven bless and help the mothers.

One nice thing about buying a new automobile these days. When you buy one you get it ready for the road and do not have to buy several hundred dollars worth of junk to put on it before it is ready to go.

If you want to hear a real treat go to the First M. E. church this evening and hear a former commissioner of emigration in New York tell you about crime. H has a message for every good American. The man you will hear is Frederick A. Wallis, Deputy Commissioner of Correction in New York at the present time.

"Most of those who whistle at their work are big men." Yeah; it takes a big man to get away with it.

You may not have noticed it but the banks are most all making extensions and the jails, poorhouses, insane asylums and many other institutions are also full and extensions being made on many of them all over the country.

A contemplated law now before congress would increase the pay of submarine men in the navy forty per cent above what it now is. It seems to us about a hundred per cent would be low enough.

IT'S THE TRUTH, MABEL

If the distance be lengthy, or really quite small,
We motor along, with no walking at all.
We hear all around us (it may be just talk)
That the next generation won't know how to walk.
—Author at Large.

A physician of my acquaintance tells this joke on himself. A woman became very ill and he was called to attend her. After she had lingered for several days, with little change in her condition, the weekly church paper came out with this item:

"Sister———is very ill at her home. Dr.———is attending her. Will all the brothers and sisters of the church pray for her?"

GENERALLY SPEAKING

The professor was asked to give his definition of woman. After clearing his throat he began in his leasurely way, "Woman is, generally speaking———"

"Stop right there, professor," interrupted a lowbrow. "If you talked a thousand years you'd never get any nearer to it than that."

It's strange what some men will do, also what women will do when seeking a life of ease. There's the case of the rich Indian prince with several wives already, and planning to take unto himself still another, an American woman. Don't blame him for wanting an American wife, but she must be different from those with whom we are acquainted when she is willing to become one of several wives. Oh, well, it looks as if things are changing.

There's one good thing about this gang warfare we read about in our larger cities. The gangsters kill each other and save the citizens much in costs.

Architects are a conservative lot, and it may be years before they give us built-in ash trays.

The fair sex, we see, is not very well represented on the school boards of the county. In spite of this fact we appear to be making great headway in educational matters.

It took our breath to read about the school teacher of other years, who received the very munificent salary of $21.50 a month for five months, paid $6 a month board and was still happy and contented. Some of the instructors of our youth today whom we know could hardly make a monthly payment on their fur coat or automobile at that rate.

Some fellows are willing to pay large sums to have other fellows beaten up, if we read the newspapers right these days, while others will stand up in a ring and give others a chance to knock their heads off for as little as twenty-five dollars. Neither pays.

Lindbergh is a "bird" when it comes to flying. He always gets where he starts for, because he knows his stuff. There are a lot of birds here who would be "Lindberghs", but they don't know their stuff.

Machines sometimes outlive their usefulness, but more often they wear out. This is sometimes true of men. But some of them have not found it out yet.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

EVERYBODY'S PRESIDENT

Too much talk about some candidate for president whom the farmers want, or some other candidate whom "big business" wants. No group in the United States of America has the exclusive right to a candidate. This country ought not to be looking for a specialized candidate for president. Above all we want for president a big man with a broad perspective and with imagination and with an appreciation of the needs of all groups. We don't want any one-crowd candidates.

PLENTY TO DO

Jastrow, eminent psychologist of the University of Wisconsin, says man's brain is the same as it was 150,000 years ago.

"The old instincts and emotions—fear, hunger, and anger—still play the most important part in life," he says. "There has been no change."

To take care of his old instincts and emotions—fear, hunger and anger—and succeed in living a rational life, gives every man plenty to do.

WAR AND RUBBER

Edison predicts Europe will make war on the United States, and he is devoting his time to the search for means whereby this nation can quickly produce its own rubber. It would be a great thing for our industrial progress if we were less dependent on others for our supply of the "makings" of rubber. More power to Edison—but why predict war with Europe? Predictions have a part in the making of war. Let's talk about something else.

THEY KNOW

In an inquiry into the plans of a large number of big business firms in this country it is learned that one-third of the number have decided to increase the amount they have been spending for advertising. This number will doubtless be much increased before the year is over. Big business concerns no longer have to be told what advertising will do. Sales beyond the wildest dreams of earlier promoters are now part of the regular schedule of manufacturers and merchants—because of the amazing increase in the habit of advertising. And the possibilities of advertising are just beginning to be sensed. It is still a new practice — on a large scale—and is capable of enormous development. Those who have the courage to make that development will reap the harvest of greater sales and greater profits.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE BEST ARGUMENT AGAINST WAR

There is much talk of the probability of war. Lloyd George and H. G. Wells both say that the next war is not far off.

Deputy Cachin in the French Chamber recently was very pessimistic. He saw war clouds everywhere, even in America. The press reports say that "he pictured Uncle Sam gazing greedily at South American countries."

To all Americans this seems very much as though the Deputy were talking through his hat. We know that the prospect of America conquering some South American Republic and annexing it is most remote. We have more territory now than we want and wouldn't take over another country if it were offered to us, especially a country peopled by folk whose mode of living is thoroughly foreign to our nation.

Perhaps rumors of war in Europe are about as baseless as those of Deputy Cachin concerning America. Mr. Briand declared that war between France and Italy is "unthinkable and impossible."

It is unthinkable and that for a very good reason.

Both nations are simply too poor to go to war. There are three requisites for war in this age, the three requisites being money and money and more money, of which commodity the two countries indicated as well as the rest of Europe are decidedly shy.

The main reason that induced the Kaiser to go to war was that he had plenty of money to spend in fireworks and enough to last him a good while, and the main reason why the war stopped was because he ran out of funds.

The only nation at present that is suitably prepared for war, and by that I mean having wealth enough, is the United States, and the war sentiment here is decidedly lacking.

We are a business nation and aside from all sentimental reasons we know that war does not pay. Men may not be cowards as far as risking their lives is concerned, but they are notoriously cowards when it comes to risking their money.

The best assurance that the world has that there will be no war for sometime to come is that the only nation ready for war doesn't want it. Its ambitions do not run in that direction.

Tomorrow—American Names.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE NEW SOUTH.

Ever since the close of the Civil War, it has been the opinion of the citizens of the Northern States that the Southern States could never contribute to the wealth of the Nation as they did before the War.

Without any loud blare of trumpets, moving cautiously at first and, with added confidence, plunging forward more rapidly as time has passed, the South today presents a very remarkable picture. Careful observers who compose the membership of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, say that today manufacturing in the Southeastern States is increasing one and one-half times faster than for the whole country. The annual value of manufactured products in the States south of the old Mason and Dixon Line increased between 1914 and 1925 from a billion dollars to three and one-half billion dollars. Alabama, Florida and North Carolina increased more than 200 per cent; Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee increased more than 175 per cent.

What line of manufacturing has the South undertaken? The line that the late Professor William G. Sumner of Yale University said forty years ago the South would pursue if the Law of Economics amounted to a "Tinker's Damn." The South is the natural place to spin cotton. Massachusetts and New England, at the time "Billy" Sumner made that statement in the class-room, monopolized the cotton manufacturing of America, although the cotton was grown in the South. It was not an economical arrangement. Economic laws do not occupy any place on the Statute Books of the Nation, but they work more surely than any Law that any Legislature ever passed. It is, therefore, found that the manufacturer of cotton headed the list of the important manufacturing businesses in the States mentioned, in 1925, with a total value of a billion dollars. That is why the looms of Massachusetts and New England are so idle. Iron ore was found in the Tennessee mountains and the volume of the iron and steel products of the South have risen accordingly. The tobacco business has grown enormously and Winston-Salem, North Carolina, has become the cigarette making center of the world.

Besides all of this, the lumber woodenware and furniture business is producing tremendously. The day of the "Carpet Bagger" has long passed. No longer can the North talk about reconstructing the South. The South has arrived.

On Traveling.

And who would be a traveler
And see the world afar,
What joys at Rome could equal home
Where my two children are?
And what has Paris fair to show
That I should sail away
When I can sit at home and know
Their pranks from day to day?

They say Japan is bright with charm
And Orient customs lure,
But that they'd be delights for me
I am not very sure;
For all the joys which are Japan's
Would find me cold as stone
And glum of face, in such a place,
If I were there alone.

I'd like to go to Oxford town,
I'd like to sail the sea,
But bless your heart, I'll never start
Until they can go with me.
For little joy I'd get from all
The splendors I should find,
I should only grieve if I had to leave
My loved ones all behind.

MORE BALL LIGHTNING

George Miller, St. Charles, Minnesota, writes:

"About twenty years ago, during a thunderstorm, I stood inside, watching the storm. I had a clear view of the telephone wires. There was a loud crash, and I saw two balls of fire rolling along the top wire, a foot apart, and at about the speed of a ball being rolled by a boy along a sidewalk.

"These fire balls were about the size of baseballs. They rolled along the wire for about twenty feet, and then struck the telephone pole near the house, exploding with a sharp report, like a handclap. No harm was done."

Mrs. M. E. Carpenter, Fort Wayne, Indiana, writes:

"During the summer of 1925, driving in a rain in Terre Haute, I saw a ball of lightning, apparently twice the size of a basketball, giving forth a soft glow, falling in a perpendicular line from the clouds to the earth. I lost sight of it as it disappeared behind buildings. It seemed to be three to five blocks away. I was thrilled, but not frightened."

C. W. Van Orden, Emporia, Kansas, writes that he saw ball lightning in 1903, on a farm ten miles southeast of Emporia. He was driving in a spring wagon with his son, F. W., then four years old, now a resident of Wichita.

There was a shower. A ball of fire floated earthward from a cloud. Ten feet from the ground the ball dropped quickly. There was a loud report and a shower of sparks that stunned the young son and scared the horses. Mr. Van Orden found that an old Osage hedge tree, opposite his farm, had been struck and destroyed.

Speaking of letters, let me say that I cannot undertake to find millionaire patrons for talented children, nor for the children of widows, however worthy. I am receiving many such requests, and I do not know what I have written that has caused my readers to think that I am on easy terms with magnanimous millionaires. All the millionaires I know seem to be having a hard time meeting their interest payments.

Seventy Thousand At State Farm Products Show In Harrisburg

State Farm Products Show Opens In Capital Today With Throng On Hand

Practically All State-Wide Agricultural Associations Are Represented

By S. I. NEIMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17. — The Pennsylvania farmer has come to town, seventy thousand strong, to display the commonwealth's golden horn of plenty, out of which flow an abundance and variety of crops unsurpassed in any state in the Union.

The opening of the state farm products show here today found such a host of delegates, guests and visitors that every hotel in the Capital city was overcrowded, and the overflow was forced to seek accommodations in private homes. Delegates to each of the thirty-odd state-wide agricultural organizations were on hand, and sponsors of the show were forced to seek 10,000 additional square feet of space to house the additional exhibits which continued to arrive.

Practically the entire staff of the agricultural school of Pennsylvania State College was on hand to aid in placing exhibits today. As tons of corn, small grains, and other exhibits continued to pour in.

Will Close Friday

A bedlam of sound came from the exposition building where animal exhibits were housed, while agricultural experts from every corner of the nation joined in the early crowds which filed through the half dozen buildings set aside for exhibits.

The show, which is to continue through Friday, is the occasion for the meeting of practically state-wide agricultural association, all of which will hold a joint meeting tonight. Governor John S. Fisher, U. S. Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, C. G. Jordan, State Secretary of Agriculture, and others, are listed for addresses.

The first event on the show program was live stock judging this morning, to continue until early this afternoon. At the same time the annual pigeon show, with 3,000 entries was in progress, while a conference of cooperative associations was held in the State Capital chambers.

The State Etomological Society, Farmers Cooperative Federation and State Association of market meetings were called for this afternoon as were also the meetings of the former State Board of Agriculture and Vegetable Growers Association.

Testimonial Dinner For Ellwood Boxer

Several Local Men To Attend; Beaver Falls Mayor Toastmaster

Two hundred persons will attend the testimonial dinner to be given to Emmett Rocco, heavyweight boxer, by citizens of Ellwood City, at Ellwood City, Wednesday night.

The mayor of Beaver Falls is to be toastmaster and there will be a number of addresses, among the spokesmen being Ed. Fritz, Sports Editor of The News and Attorney S. L. Clark of New Castle.

Others from New Castle who will attend the banquet are Henry Goldberg and Al Simpson.

Rocco is the foremost heavyweight boxer in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania and is being boomed for high fistic honors.

Introduce Mulberry Street Paving Bill

Mulberry street between Brooklyn and Cleveland avenues to be paved according to the foot front rule.

This was decided today when council met in city hall and an ordinance providing for the improvement was introduced by Councilman Reeves.

In plain words it is what the city officials term a "comeback" at property owners residing along the street. The solons report the residents wanted the street graded to eliminate a water nuisance.

The street was graded.

It is alleged the nuisance was not abated and the property owners talked of suing the city for damages.

Council acted upon the suggestion of City Attorney White and today the ordinance for paving was introduced.

Still Many Dogs Without Licenses

County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley has issued 3,900 dog licenses to date. It is claimed that there are over 6,000 dogs in the county according to the record of licenses issued last year. This would indicate that there are over 2,000 or more dogs whose owners have not yet secured licenses. Those who fail to get license are taking chances of having to pay fines.

Reeves To Fix East Side Alley

Cost Of Repairs Will Be Taken Out Of Money Due Olsen

Council today instructed C. H. Reeves, head of the department of streets, to put the first alley running between Adams and Beckford streets and parallel to East Washington street, in passable condition. The cost will be deducted from money the city owes the Olsen company for improvements here.

Reeves says that in council doing this the body is doing something that is coming to the property-owners whose houses are situated along the alley.

When Olsen operated in the section he is alleged to have made the alley impassable then put in clay. Olsen is also said to have ruined a small sewer.

Name Graves As Columbus, Kansas, C. Of C. Secretary

It will be of interest to the many friends of Miss Sara Falls, now Mrs. David Graves of Columbus, Kansas, to learn that her husband, formerly a member of the Brick English orchestra, which organization was known throughout the middle and far west, particularly Hollywood, has been selected secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Columbus, Kansas.

Mr. Graves was born and raised in Columbus, Kansas, and spent most of his life in that city, except the few years that he was a member of the Brick English orchestra. He is well and favorably known in that city and it is expected that the Chamber of Commerce of that city will make great strides under his leadership.

Coast Couple Are Suicide Victims

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Their wish for married happiness denied by some mysterious, unnamed circumstances, Gerald Keck, 28, and Dorothy Youngman, 23, wiped out their lives together in a suicide pact today in the little town of Irwindale, a suburb of Los Angeles.

The young woman, a beautiful blonde, was a school teacher in Covina, Cal.

SAYS PROHIBITION HAS MADE GREAT STRIDES DURING SEVEN YEARS

Victory Luncheon Is Held By W. C. T. U. Celebrating Anniversary Of Prohibition Era

Enthusiasm Shown For Dry America; Benefits Of Prohibition Presented

"Temperance workers of this great republic should not become discouraged or lose faith in the program established by the leaders for the enforcement of the 18th amendment as it will perhaps require at least a generation to entirely destroy the liquor traffic in America," Dr. Carlysle H. Holcomb, pastor of the First Christian church, declared in his address "How Can the Courts Advance Law Enforcement" at the eighth annual Victory luncheon of Lawrence County Woman's Christian Temperance Union held in the First Presbyterian church of this city Monday, January 16.

"Prohibition has made great strides though only seven years since the amendment went into effect," the speaker said. "We see from history that it has taken many years to destroy some great issue of which the people have practiced. In Bible times it required 500 years to rid the people of idol worship. It also took many years to entirely abolish slavery in the United States."

Rev. Holcomb spoke of the obligations that the taxpayer has the primary elections; of selecting a man or a woman who will be true to their convictions and who will do their part in seeing that the laws are enforced. There are so many laws made that very few of the people know what they are.

The minister stressed the importance of having intelligent juries to try court cases. Many men and women are called for jury duty who are absolutely unfit. The people should endeavor to perfect a greater intelligence of jurors who try especally liquor cases or those of like importance.

Miss Margaret S. Walker of Pulaski, president of the county W. C. T. U., was the toastmistress and introduced the speakers. The second address of the day was made by Attorney Wylie McCaslin, who spoke on "The Presidential Highway Must Be a Dryway." Mr. McCaslin said in part: It would be incongruous for a man to take an oath to support the constitution of the United States whose heart is not in sympathy for what it stands. It must be a dryway because sentiment has not changed on the part of the people who voted for the abolishment of the liquor traffic eight years ago. People have no reason to believe that the states have changed in the adoption of the 18th amendment nor that the voters would change their minds if such a vote were taken again.

The manufacturers of motor vehicles would not want to see the return of the saloon. Statistics show that there are 23,000,000 motor vehicles traveling the highways today. If the saloons should return it would be impossible almost to travel on the roads as an intoxicated driver would be a menace and a hindrance to traffic.

The railroad officials who are now having trains some of them a mile long cannot afford to have wet men as engineers.

Money has become so plentiful in this country that bankers must go to European countries to find places to invest their money. Since the abolishment of liquor the higher institutions of learning can scarcely accommodate the young people seeking for an education.

Both addresses were most enthusiastically received by the large crowd present.

Short talks were given by Representative Bart Richards who told briefly of the 1927 session of the legislature at Harrisburg and Senator George T. Weingartner who paid a splendid tribute to the work of Mrs. Ella George, state president of the W. C. T. U.

Rev. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, gave a very interesting report of the Anti-Saloon convention held recently in Washington, D. C.

James Peebles of Plaingrove emphasized the great need of putting proper men in office. Men that really represent the people who are not crafty politicians.

The luncheon was served in the church dining room at attractively appointed tables by the ladies of the congregation. A color scheme of blue and white was carried out in the decorations. Blue tapers in crystal holders added much to the effect of the tables. Covers were arranged for 160, including many guests.

The invocation was given Rev. I. A. Dickenson, pastor of the Plaingrove Presbyterian church. Pep singing led by Mrs. M. R. Newberry and selections by Miss Elizabeth Brewster's orchestra added much to the interest of the occasion.

Gordon Will Speak On 18th Amendment

Australian Will Address Grove City Audience In United Presbyterian Church

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 17.—Reverend Gifford Gordon, of Melbourne, Australia, will speak in the auditorium of the United Presbyterian church this evening at eight o'clock. Rev. Gordon has made a very careful study of National Prohibition in America over a period of six years, being sent to America by the business men of Australia, and is prepared to give his unbiased opinion of the results.

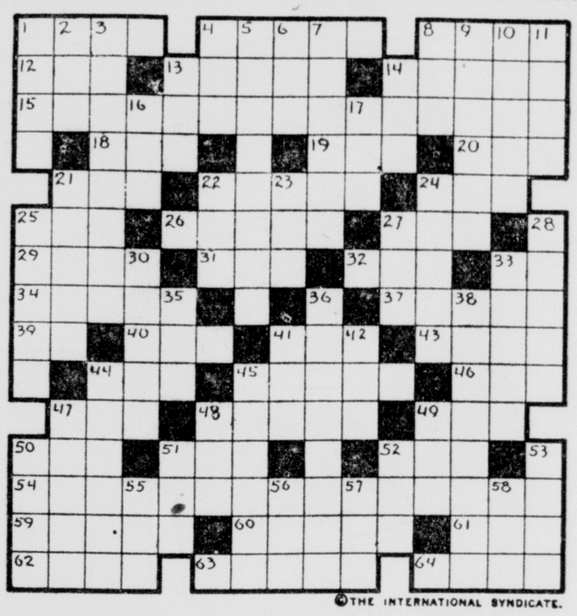

His subject will be, "The Eighteenth Amendment." A large number of local people are expected to attend the lecture which should be very interesting, according to those who have heard Rev. Gordon speak.

EIGHT ARRESTS MADE BY HIGHWAY PATROL

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Jan. 17.—Eight persons were arrested by state highway patrol from Troop B, Greensburg, stationed here, in a concerted drive in this district for various violations of the state automobile laws. Officers refuse to divulge their names. They were each given hearings and fined.

Sergeant J. L. Rendt, in charge of the patrol of five men stationed here since Saturday afternoon, has established headquarters in the Hotel Kensington. The drive will be conducted for an indefinite period.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE HIDDEN FOE

"How provoking birds and insects are!" grumbled Peter. "They only half tell you a thing and then leave you to find out the rest as best you can. To be sure, when I find out a fact for myself or see a thing with my own eyes, I remember it better, but I don't always know how to go about it. Here I am, at the hemlock tree. Now, where can Screech Owl's roost be? I don't see a sign of it anywhere and it seems to me that if his nest was on the branches, I would discover it! That young Blue Jay could have given me more information if he'd wanted to!"

Then Peter heard again the same queer, sneezy sob that had sent the shivers up and down his spine a while before. This time, however, it was much fainter and somehow it had an amused note.

"T'cher-r-whieu! T'cher-r-whieu!"

The sound seemed to come from the farther side of the tree and Peter walked around and peered carefully about. Not a thing did he see that looked a bit like a nest, but high up opening. As he stared at it he imagined he saw a huge eye blinking down at him. He couldn't be sure, though, for in a second it had disappeared and the hope was a black and as empty as before.

"That's funny!" said the boy "Now you see an eye, and now you don't! Upon my word, I do believe old Screech Owl is playing a trick on me. At an rate, it can do no harm to climb up and see if there is really anything in that hole. Even if Screech Owl wanted to, he will be too sleepy to start any trouble, and perhaps if I am polite to him he will be willing to tell me what I want to know. Anyhow, I am going to take a chance and find out what will happen."

When Peter once made up his mind to do a thing he generally carried it out. Suiting his actions to his words, he began to scale the tree, and he didn't find it a bit hard—there were lots of little rough places, which he found good footholds.

It was no time at all before Peter had reached a branch that jutted out from the hole that he had set out to explore. But he had learned one lesson from his insect friends, and that was to "look before you leap," as they would have expressed it. And he did not plunge into the hollow, as he once might have done. Instead, he rapped with his knuckles upon the trunk at the side of the hole.

INSTEAD HE RAPPED WITH HIS KNUCKLES ON THE TRUNK.

Tap! Tap! Tap!

At first there was no response to his knocking, but Peter was not going to give up as easily as that.

"I am perfectly sure that somebody lives here," said he, under his breath, "and that he is at home, and if I am not very much mistaken it is Screech Owl himself. I am going to find out if it takes me all day." And he kept right on rapping.

Then, at last, Peter was rewarded for his efforts. A sleepy voice spoke from within the tree.

"Who is there?" it asked, grumpily. "These are not my hours for receiving calls, you know. Do stop that horrid knocking and go away and let me sleep!"

VICTORY BANQUET BY BIBLE CLASS

Elaborate Event Takes Place Monday Evening In First Methodist Church

Covers were arranged for 153 for the victory banquet given by the Men's Bible class of the First M. E. church Monday evening with families of members as special guests. Invocation was given by W. H. Cover.

An elaborate menu was served in the church dining room at 6:30 at attractively arranged tables. After dinner speeches were given by a number of the class members discussing the results of prohibition from different angles.

Attorney Charles R. Davis discussed the subject from a lawyer's viewpoint telling the effects that prohibition has on the people he comes in contact with; Thomas A. Myers discussed the subject from the banker's viewpoint; Dr. J. C. B. Douthett from a doctor's viewpoint and E. B. Bartlett from the business man's viewpoint. The teacher of the class Dr. Charles R. Dawson of Westminster college who was to have discussed the subject from an educational viewpoint was unable to be present.

In addition to the talks given a number of delightful musical numbers were enjoyed. Mrs. B. K. Thacker gave a vocal solo and an instrumental trombone duet was given by Kenneth Myers and Edgar Beal. C. H. Martin was in charge of the pep singing.

The officers of the class were introduced. They are Archie Gordon, president; Roy Miller, vice president; Ed Hainer, treasurer; James Elmore and Mr. Bailey secretaries.

A fine feeling of fellowship pervaded the entire evening. The event was considered to be one of the best social affairs ever given by the Men's class.

CHAIRMAN'S LUNCHEON

The committee of management of the Elm street branch Y. W. C. A. was very highly entertained at a 1:00 o'clock luncheon Monday, January 16, with Mrs. Blanche Dillard and Mrs. Carolyn Williams as hostesses. Those of the committee present were Mrs. Rebecca Baker, Mrs. Laura Russell, Mrs. Kreba Tilghman, Mrs. Vira Brown, Mrs. Julia Wilkes, Mrs. Carolyn Williams and Mrs. Blanche Dillard. Invited guests Mrs. Ada Daughterty, Mrs. Julia Fitzhugh and Mrs. C. D. Henderson.

After the luncheon there was an informal discussion on ways and means of improving the work of the Y. W. C. A. and how the Y. W. C. A. can render more service to the colored people of New Castle, especially the younger boys and girls. At the close of the meeting Miss Brown gave a short outline of study on Y. W. C. A., which is to be taken up during the next five months.

This was the first of six luncheons the committee will have during the Y. W. C. A. year which closes the 15 of May. Mrs. Laura Russel and Mrs. Vira Brown will be hostesses at the next luncheon, which will be the 20 of February.

Bible Class

The Y. W. C. A. Bible class will meet this evening in the Elm street Y. W. C. A. at 7:30. This class, with few exceptions, met every Tuesday evening during the past year. With the new year greater enthusiasm is being shown and the class is growing in attendance. Randolph Baker is the teacher and is very competent.

Miners Trapped Thirteen Hours By Falling Debris Are Finally Rescued

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., Jan. 17.—Digging through the debris of an old working in the Lehigh Valley Coal Company working at Oneida, near here, a rescue crew early today reached nine men trapped in the No. 8 slope by the cave-in and brought the men safely to the surface. The men were uninjured and showed no evil effects of being trapped 13 hours.

The men, entombed with 13 others when the old working collapsed shortly after one p. m. yesterday, were reached at two a. m. today. They said they had been in no immediate danger and had merely waited until relays of rescue crews succeeded in digging through the fallen dirt and timbers.

They were taken to their homes and will rest today before returning to work in the mine.

SUITS ARE FILED

The Pollock-Forsch company has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against N. G. Bagran, trading as the Neiman Suit and Cloak company, for $787.06. The bill is for merchandise alleged to have been furnished.

The Endicott-Johnson company has filed a suit against J. I. Levine for $235.72, for merchandise furnished.

To commemorate fourteen years of successful collective bargaining between employers and employes, the Upholstery Weavers' Union of Philadelphia recently gave a great banquet at which labor was the host and capital the honored guest.

What Is This Mysterious Substance In Liver That Restores Weak, Thin Blooded People to Robust Health?

The price of liver has gone up in New York, Baltimore, Detroit and in other cities where physicians keep abreast of times.

There's a reason.

For if you don't know—You ought to know—that science has discovered in beef and calves liver a "Mysterious Substance" that by actual test has succeeded in restoring to good health thousands of weak, thin blooded, worn-out people.

So leading physicians the country over are advising their run-down, thin blooded patients to eat more liver for better health, more energy and greater vitality.

So wonderfully efficient is this "Mysterious substance" that in many hospitals that dread disease, Pernicious Anemia, has been successfully treated and overcome.

The "Mysterious Substance" in liver is something like the vitamines extracted from Cod Liver Oil, but most scientific investigators claim for it even greater potency and rejuvenating power.

But getting into the system this potent "Mysterious Substance" by eating liver is recognized as a slow process—too slow for the average eager American who wants to get well speedily.

So one of the best known laboratories in America, after prolonged experiments, succeeded in extracting from fresh beef liver the vital elements and put up this extract in concentrated form, very palatable and even pleasant to the taste.

And rundown, thin blooded, sickly men, women and children have taken this concentrated elixir which has been named Hemo-Liver and have regained their health and strength.

Hundreds of physicians are prescribing it. You can go to any druggist who is at all progressive today and get a big 12 ounce bottle of Hemo-Liver that will last you eight days.

A tablespoonful is a dose and you'll have to eat a lot of liver to get as much of this red blood making "Mysterious Substance," as you'll get in one tablespoonful of Hemo-Liver.

Indeed its powerful efficacy is so apparent that one bottle, or eight days treatment, often brings such a big improvement in health that both patient and Doctor are astonished.

Its success as a maker of rich blood and to bring strength, vigor and vitality to those who are anemic and run down is so certain that pharmacists sell it with the distinct understanding that if one bottle does not help you—wonderfully—your money will be refunded.

What is this "Mysterious Substance"—? No one seems to know—but as one great New York newspaper stated editorially—

"The secret of how this "Mysterious Substance" rejuvenates the corpuscle factory still eludes the searchers but the victim of the disease will not worry about that. What matters to him is that now he can be cured."

Seventh Ward News

Union Prayer Meetings Start On Wednesday

Committees Named For Union Meeting; Other News Of Seventh Ward

Beginning this Wednesday evening, union prayer meetings will precede the union revival services to be conducted in the seventh ward. Union revival services with Rev. Thomas Houston of Fanwood, N. J., evangelist, will be in charge of the services. The Mahoning Presbyterian, Mahoning M. E. and Madison Avenue Christian churches will unite in a revival to begin February 7 and continue for three weeks.

Preceding these meetings there will be three union prayer meetings. The first, Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, in the Methodist church; leader, Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The second union prayer service Wednesday, Jan. 25, in the Presbyterian church, with Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the Christian church, in charge. The third union service in the Christian church February 1, with Rev. David Daye Sleppy, pastor of the Methodist church, in charge.

Various committees have been recently named for the union revival services. Each committee is comprised of one person from each of the three churches. Committees are as follows:

Music committee: Loy Gwin, Methodist; E. O. Farver, Presbyterian; J. F. Edmunds, Christian.

Ushers: Edwin G. Walker, Presbyterian; Carl Houk, Christian; Frank Barnes, Methodist.

DOMINICAN SISTERS PRAISE FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

"FOR COLDS AND BODY BUILDING IT DOES A WORLD OF GOOD," THEY WRITE

The Dominican Sisters of St. Dominic Monastery, La Crosse, Wisconsin have found that for treating and preventing colds and building up the aged and sickly, Father John's Medicine is so effective that they have used it daily for many years.

Following is part of a letter from the Mother Prioress:—

"We have found out that there is nothing better than Father John's Medicine for colds, or building up the body. It always helps our weak or delicate sisters, and those who have colds soon recover and grow stronger. We cannot praise Father John's Medicine too highly. We cheerfully recommend it for colds and as a body builder and hope that all who use it may obtain the same wonderful results as we do: it does a world of good."

These good sisters know that they can take Father John's Medicine with confidence as it is absolutely free from alcohol and dangerous drugs. For 70 years it has won similar tributes of praise as the safe family medicine for colds and body building.

Woman Files Suit For Alienation Of Husbands Affection

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—Charging alienation of her husband's affections, Mrs. May Reynolds of Phoenix, Ariz., today sought $100,000 alleged damages from Mrs. Ella D. Vaughn, of Swissvale, a suburb, in a suit filed in the Federal court here.

Mrs. Reynolds states in her bill of complaint that Mrs. Vaughn, Reynolds' mother, has threatened to disinherit him unless he leaves his wife, and that Reynolds already has started divorce proceedings.

Mrs. Vaughn was characterized in the bill of complaint as a woman of large means and great wealth and the allegation was made that she had "wilfully and wickedly" contrived to deprive Mrs. Reynolds of her husband. The complaint states Mrs. Vaughn had characterized Mrs. Reynolds as a "rip."

Mrs. Reynolds stated she was married to Raymond Reynolds in Los Angeles, Calif., on July 10, 1922, setting up their home in Phoenix, Ariz., where they lived until July 1, 1927, when her husband left her.

COMMUNITY CHEST SURVEY

Report Of General Organizations Company As Made For Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson As Result Of Action Taken At Community Chest Fund Workers' Campaign—Being Published In Sections

Another installment of the report of the General Organization Company of Chicago, of the survey made of the Community Chest and other organizations receiving public support here, as submitted to Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, at whose expense the survey was made, is presented today.

In the survey, the idea was to investigate all of the agencies and make recommendations which might be for the betterment of the management of any or all of them. The News is presenting the facts in the survey as reported by the General Organization Company and submitted to the Chest board directors and the agencies, insofar as they concern the organizations.

Today's report deals with the New Castle Hospital, and is as follows:

THE NEW CASTLE HOSPITAL

The following provisions are contained in the charter of this organization:

Name: "The New Castle Hospital."

Purpose: "The purpose for which said corporation is formed is to establish and maintain a hospital in the city of New Castle, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of providing medical and surgical aid, nursing, and care for sick and injured persons indigent or otherwise and for the maintaining of a training school for nurses and the delivery of clinical lectures in connection with the conducting of said hospital."

We find that the statements submitted to the Community Chest have not been accurate. The cash receipts were understated $3,604.83 due to errors in adding the cash book. A check received from the Community Chest for $234.38 in November, 1926, was not reported as a receipt. The statement for October, 1927, shows a deficit of $13,680.78. The statement for the year ended October 31, 1927, gave the total salaries as $42,754.03 whereas only $24,554.03 was actually paid. This difference of $18,200.00 was due to the fact that $100.00 a month was charged as salary for each Sister although no salary is paid to them.

The salaries of the paid employees appear to be a reasonable amount. We do not believe that the number of paid employees is excessive. However, if the 16 Sisters are included as employees at $1,600.00 a month both the number of employees and the amount of salaries will be excessive for the size of the hospital.

The amount paid for provisions during the year seems to be conservative. The other items of expense are in keeping with the size of the hospital.

In reconciling the balance at October 31, 1927, we find that disbursements amounting to $9,616.46 have been made and cannot be accounted for. We were informed that the Mother House in Pittsburgh has paid for several additions and improvements to the New Castle Hospital and it is probable that a good part of the $9,616.46 was sent to the Mother House to reimburse it for the advances made. None of this amount was paid by check but was given in cash.

The records have been poorly kept and it is impossible to arrive at a bank balance during the month. At various times the bank account is overdrawn and apparently the management of the hospital is not aware of this fact until they are called by officials of the bank.

An accounting system should be installed and all cash receipts and disbursements should be accounted for. The management of the hospital should be able to determine the amount of the bank balance at any time.

Only three meetings of the board of directors were held during the year. We understand that the board of directors is an advisory board only and does not have the power to manage this organization.

The average number of patients at the New Castle Hospital was 78, or 63% of the capacity, which is 124. The cost of provisions averaged 83 cents a day for each patient.

The New Castle Hospital has an appointed staff of 11 physicians and 36 physicians are privileged to practice in the hospital. We understand that there has been some criticism of the Hospital because certain physicians are not permitted to practice there.

In this connection we wish to point out that the New Castle Hospital is classified by the American College of Surgeons as "a fully approved hospital". Under the rules of this organization, a fully approved hospital may not permit a physician to practice therein unless he has subscribed to the following pledge, prescribed by the American College of Surgeons:

"I agree that I shall not engage in the division of fees under any guise whatever. By this principle I understand that I am not to collect fees for others, referring to me; not to permit others to collect fees for me, nor to make joint fees with physicians or surgeons referring patients to me for operations or consultations, nor knowingly permit any agent or associate of mine to do so."

The total number of free days during the year ended October 31, 1927, amounted to 7,878.

A statement of cash receipts and disbursements follows:

Annual Meeting At Trinity Church

Elect Three Vestrymen At Meeting Of Congregation Last Night

Annual meeting of the members of Trinity Episcopal parish held last night in the guild room of the church was well attended and many matters of importance were considered.

The meeting was opened with the rector, Rev. P. C. Pearson, presiding and F. E. Sowersby as secretary.

Owing to the necessity of Rev. Pearson leaving before the close of the meeting for Washington, D. C., where he, by invitation, is to be one of 15 ministers to take an advance course in the College of Preachers, conducted at the National cathedral by Bishop Rhinelander, Senior Warden W. T. Butz presided during the latter part of the meeting.

Election of three vestrymen resulted in the re-election of Thomas W. Dickey, Charles E. Lyle and H. K. Bell. Reports by the rector, financial secretary, treasurer, Women's Guild, women's auxiliary, Daughters of the King, Men's club, the church school and other organizations showed that all had been active and had done good work during the past year and were in good condition.

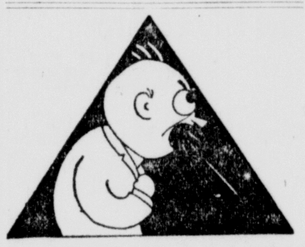

The Woman's Guild had such an excellent report, as did several other organizations of the church, that they were accorded rising votes of thanks by the members of the parish.

The meeting voted to have the rector secure the services of the social worker of the diocese of Erie for the purpose of making a survey of the local parish and recommend such things as might prove of benefit in the work among the young people of the parish.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the ladies of the church.

PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM COUNTY JAIL

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 17.—By sawing cell bars, cutting out a window and shinning down a water spout two prisoners escaped from the Harrison county jail this morning.

They are Earl Sleeper, 24 an ex-convict awaiting grand jury action for alleged theft of an automobile at Meadowbrook and James Moore, 25, held in connection with a shooting scrape at Bristol.

TO TEST SANITY OF BOY MURDERER

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Jan 17.—Prosecutor Paul Waddell today asked Judge Warren Cown to name three physicians to investigate the mental condition of Andy Dyken, 15 who is charged with having shot his mother to death.

The prosecutor was said to have made this move before the defense planning an insanity plea could obtain court permission for the sanity test.

State Election Law Commission Stages Hearing

First Public Hearing Of State Election Law Commission Held In Harrisburg

ORGANIZATIONS PRESENT VIEWS

By WILLIAM B. BROWN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—Election reform organizations of Central Pennsylvania today presented their views to the state election law commission, meeting in the governor's reception room in the first public hearing of the commission.

It was indicated that today's meeting will outline the methods of inquiry and investigation to be followed by the commision in studying election laws in various meetings throughout the state which are to follow. The commission under the act creating it is charged with making definite recommendations to the next session of the legislature

In addition to representatives of the Pennsylvania Elections association, organized in Philadelphia, a number of Women's Federations, church and temperance clubs have been given a place on the program.

Vance C. McCormick, former Democratic national chairman and strict advocate of more stringent voting regulations will be one of the principal speakers at today's session. McCormick is active in the Elections association and has a definite program of reform to lay before the commission.

ANTI-PARKING BILL ADOPTED

Measure To Prevent Car Parking Between 1 A. M. and 6. A. M. Passes

Unless there is a landslide of opposition presented for councilmanic consideration the ordinance prohibiting parking of automobiles between 1 a. m. and 6 a. m. in all city streets will become a law ten days from today.

The ordinance, introduced by Councilman Reeves, for the purpose of giving street employes an opportunity to clean streets was received from the printer, called up for final reading and adopted today.

The measure was passed on account of many persons leaving their cars stand in the street all night. The street department head plans to clean streets between 1 a. m. and 6 a. m.

Should cars be found police will have them towed to a garage and the owner will either have to pay the garage rent and tow charges or pay a fine in default of which he can be committed to jail.

Should persons wish to hold a party and have automobiles stand in front of their residence they must secure a permit from the police department.

Eye Witnesses Tell How Price Met His Death

Several Persons Saw Him As He Raised Up And Went Over Front Of Car

Defense in the case of Mrs. Agnes Price who is sueing W. H. Glenn for the death of her husband on the gorge ride at Cascade Park, was taken up on Monday afternoon and is still being heard today .

Daniel Miller of this city testified this morning that he was an eyewitness of the accident. He said as the car came to the top of the rise following the first dip he saw Price raise up and go out over the front end of the car .He never stopped from the time he started to rise until he went over

"I was some distance away" said Miller, "but when I saw Price rise up in the car I said to myself, 'sit down.' Just then he went over the front of the car."

John M. Snyder testified that he had seen Price in the car, but he was in the act of going over the front when he caught a glimpse of him. He could not state whether or not Price had been standing up in the car before the accident.

Other witnesses told about seeing Price as he went over.

On Monday afternoon Perry Barge who is in charge of the gorge route was called by the plaintiff and gave information regarding the precaution taken to prevent accidents. He said there are four vertical bars and two horizontal bars n front of the cars. The top horizontal bar to which pasengers hold is about 34 inches from the top of the car. The bar had been lower when the cars was purchased, but Mr. Barge had raised it in order to secure greater safety.

The case is still on trial.

Make Every Effort To Repair Streets

Streets Are Declared Impassable To The Trucks Of The City Department

Although many complaints are coming into the office of the street commissioner concerning the condition of the streets of the city, yet every possible effort is being made to fix them, is the statement of Charles O'Brien, clerk.

"When one stops to think that the frost, strange enough, is just coming out of the ground, and that many streets are impassable to trucks, so that ashes cannot be hauled on them, it is small wonder that there are so many calls," Mr. O'Brien says.

Added to this trouble is the fact that ashes are at a premium and cannot be gotten by the street commission.

South Side Union Prayer Meetings

Large Crowd At Emmanuel Baptist Church For First Service Of Second Week

A splendid congregation assembled at the Emmanuel Baptist church last night for the first service of the second week of prayer meetings being held by the churches of the south side.

Rev. Thomas gave a pointed thought on the real meaning of the cross; this was followed by prayer by Rev. S. Whilding of the First Congregational church. The scripture reading led up to the thought expressed by Rev. Thomas on "Things that we seek after." He made a brief reference to those that sought for peace, power and kingdom. The need of Jesus Christ being the only solution to real peace, real power, also the establishing of His kingdom in the hearts and lives of people. Following this thought the congregation united in a season of prayer and testimony.

The service this evening will be held at the Central Christian church, Long avenue, at 7:30. Rev. J. B. Porter will be in charge of the service. A hearty welcome is extended to everyone.

Plans Going Forward For Evangelistic Rally

Homer Welch, En Route To Another Meeting, Speaks To Workers Yesterday

Community Dinners To Feature Evangelistic Visitation Week Of February 19

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 17.—At a meeting of the workers from the local churches which took place Monday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church Homer Welch of Grove City who will direct the Visiting Evangelism campaign here the week of February 19, spoke. He gave them a glimpse of the organization and appointed a responsibility list to make a general survey all the churches from which two people to a team will make a canvas of the town .Mr. Welch was enroute to Warren, Pa., to conduct a similar campaign before his visit here. After the survey has been made index cards will be filled out and just before the evangelistic week opens two people from each church will visit their own congregations each day.

Each evening of the week community dinners will take place in the churches and the grand climax will come on Sunday the last day of the campaign when the new church members will be tendered formal receptions in the various churches.

A meeting of the ministers following the workers meeting took place to work out preliminary schedules. This will be the first campaign of its kind in Ellwood City on such a large scale and great results are expected from it.

City Refuses To Pay Gilfillan

Claims City Did Not Order Him To Put Ashes In Euclid Avenue

Council received a bill from J. C. Gilfillan Company for $17.50 today. The amount was expended for ashes which were hauled and placed in Euclid avenue.

Council claims it was the Gilfillan Company trucks operating through Euclid avenue to the George Washington junior high school which "ruined" the avenue.

Tyler—"I make a motion that the city clerk return the bill with the appendage: 'No one authorized him to do the work and the city will not pay the bill'."

The motion passed.

Mr. George W. Conway, Editor,
The New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear sir: Reading report of the Community Chest survey covering activities of the Margaret L. Henry Children's Home, wish you would kindly offer explanation covering the item of disbursements to the amount of $1,041.43 listed as "medical services". Wish to state that this item should have read "medical supplies and hospital expenses", as the physicians of our city have never rendered any bills against the home for professional services. We think this explanation is due our medical profession and would therefore ask that you make this correction in your paper.

Cook all the following menu in the oven. The lemon pie is good either hot or cold. Even the beets may be heated in the oven. Slices of Bermuda onion with French dressing may be served in the place of celery, if preferred.

Ham Baked in Milk	Baked Potatoes
Buttered Beets	Celery
Lemon Pie	Coffee

Today's Recipes.

Ham Baked in Milk—Rub a slice of ham one inch thick with brown sugar and mustard. Place in a baking dish and cover with milk. Bake in a hot over ten minutes (500 degrees Fahrenheit), lower temperature to 350 degrees Fahrenheit and continue baking until ham is tender.

Lemon Cream Pie—Two tablespoons butter, one cup sugar, three tablespoons flour, two eggs, one lemon (grated rind and juice), one pint milk. Cream the butter and sugar, add the flour and beaten yolks, the lemon juice and rind, then add the milk, mix well, fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Pour into a deep pie pan lined with pastry. Bake until the custard is firm and the crust brown, using a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) for a few minutes, then lowering the temperature to 350 degrees Fahrenheit.

SUGGESTIONS

Sickroom Hint.

This suggestion may help some one else with an invalid to make comfortable.

During my husband's long illness, the bed clothes at the foot of the bed annoyed him by holding his feet down too close. My daughter took three thin strips of wood about three inches wide, covering them with soft cloth. They were long enough to push down to the springs and reach above the matress about six inches. They were placed between the sheets. There was no more trouble and he was much more comfortable.

Hinged Shelf.

A strong hinged shelf under each window in the kitchen is a great convenience where you need more table space. The hinges allow dropping when not in use, and there should be wooden braces under each shelf-end, to insure safety, which also are on hinges, that they may be turned in under the shelves when not in use.

If finished like the rest of the woodwork they are not at all unsightly.

CITY MAY PAVE TAYLOR STREET

Harmony Route Is Expected To Pay Their Share Of Cost

Councilman W. T. Burns, with the consent of city council today ordered Solicitor R. M. White to ask officials of the Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler and New Castle Railway Company to advise the city as to their attitude in regard to aiding in the improvement of Taylor street.

The city may pave Taylor street, between Mill street and Cunningham avenue this summer.

They believe the company should place their tracks to the side of the street on ground given by the Lehigh & Portland Cement company for that purpose.

The company also will be expected to pay for their share of the paving.

Councilman Davies' motion notifying the company to place warning signs was also passed.

He says signs should be placed at Adams street, Winslow avenue, Beckford street and Maryland avenue.

Further, Councilman Tyler claims the cars are being operated at too fast a speed in the city.

Loud-speakers are used to announce trains in some of London's big railway stations.

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Broadway comics are capable of making up their gags as they go along, as well as reading them from scripts. Eddie Cantor, in this connection, handed the customers at the "Follies" a laugh that was not on the program.

Be it known that Mrs. Cantor's name is Ida. One of her husband's stunts consisted in giving out a bottle of perfume to one in the audience: the selection to take place by a drawing. Eddie came out and read the lucky number. There was no response.

"What a break for Ida," chortled Eddie, and he put the bottle back into his pocket.

At Macy's exchange window, while standing for quite a while yesterday I overheard at least half a dozen people explaining that "I bought this a few weeks ago, but I lost the sales slip." It was a good gag and I used it myself when I finally reached the window.

And while there, I took the opportunity of spending an hour in the toy department. Before Christmas, there are too many crowds to really have any fun with the doohickies and dingbats. Macy's have some grand model airplanes, which cost as much as $50 each. The best of these are replicas of the Ryan monoplane used by Lindbergh, and of the Fokker tri-motored plane, which was used by Commander Byrd in his trans-Atlantic flight. The toys are about three feet in length, and powered by rubber, band motors, will actually fly for several hundred feet. One of the clerks told me that since the flights to Europe, the department has done a tremendous business in spare parts for model planes. Evidently thousands of New Yorkers are gratifying their longing for adventure by building the models of modern steeds of romance.

At the train counter a lady appeared with what was evidently once an expensive electric locomotive. Once, I say, for it now had the appearance of having recently undergone a serious accident. One end was bashed in; the heavy metal was crushed out of shape, and the mechanical innards were hanging out. It must have taken quite a blow to put the toy in that shape.

"I was so disappointed," exclaimed the lady. "Everett had been waiting for weeks for his trains—the little dear. Then on Christmas morning, to have this happen! You see, Everett was just winding it up when suddenly—I guess a spring broke—the whole thing went to pieces like this. You'll have to give me another train."

"But madam," said the clerk, perplexedly, "you can't wind this train up. It's run by electricity."

"Give me that train, young man! I won't be insulted like this. You can explain to the manager for your impertinence!"

She picked up the battered hulk and made a haughty exit.

The tabloids, I hear, gave a holiday on New Year's day to half of their respective staffs of photographers, and the day following to the remaining halves, and are to continue to do so. This is being tried as an experiment to cut down on post-New Year's casualties. Apparently the camera boys, in particular, are wont to overestimate their respective capacities.

Current gambling along the big street finds auction bridge extremely popular. The game is complicated enough so that adroit sharpers can win consistently, simply by their skill at the game. Possibly it is altogether honestly played except that the professional gambler sometimes loses deliberately in order to prime the sucker for high stakes. It is estimated that a thousand high-priced bridge games go on nightly in the same hideaways that formerly were devoted to crap shooting.

Another currently popular gaming is dependent on the new feature of the electric sign at the peak of Longacre square, which flashes are correct time every minute. Bets are placed at intervals on the probability of next time flash being even or odd. The game is played from surrounding hotel windows and from the street.

Wife And Five Children Stunned By Confession In Flint Murder Case

By A. F. MUNRO
International News Service Special Correspondent.

OWOSSO, Mich., Jan. 17.—Dawn came today to shed no ray of light in the home of "the man who was so kind he never scolded his children."

The darkness of despair filled the hearts of the family of Adolph Hotelling, the Owosso carpenter and church elder, who confessed slaying 5-year-old, blue-eyed and flaxen-haired Dorothy Schneider.

Through the long night Mrs. Myrtle Hotelling and her five children sat stunned by the tragedy that had overtaken them in the afternoon; that the trusted, honored, beloved father and husband had, with fiendish hands, wiped out the life of the little Mt. Morris kindergarten girl.

"If he is guilty, he should be punished. The world would be better off if he were dead. He will only grieve himself to death anyway," said Mrs. Hotelling.

The elder children—Mrs. Joseph Wagner, 25; Mrs. Lyle Munroe, 21, and Devere Hotelling, only son of the confessed killer—voiced a like sentiment.

State police, who went to the Hotelling home last night, told James Robertson, brother of Mrs. Hotelling, that Hotelling had confessed, not only the killing of the Schneider girl, but two other attacks.

One of the confessed attacks was on a girl who was lured to Oak Hill cemetery here two years ago; another of a child living at Elsie, near here, who was lured away in his car.

The confession clears up two crimes that have baffled Owosso police and may clear the way, police believe, to the solving of several other fiendish acts, one the exhuming and desecration in Flint several years ago.

"A kinder, better man I had never known," said Robertson, the brother-in-law. "He never smoked, drank, swore or was given to anger. He must be insane."

Mrs. Hotelling does not know what to think.

"I can feel nothing but sorrow for him," she said as she sat in the parlor of the pretty little bungalow home Hotelling had built himself.

"Was he crazy? He must have been," she continued. She paused as it to reflect, then asked: "But if he were insane, why did he return to Flint after the awful act, appearing and behaving normally in every way?"

"You noticed nothing queer in his actions the night of the day of the slaying?" Mrs. Hotelling was asked.

She flashed: "No, if I had I would have made him explain. Adolph was a man of set habits. He rarely was away from home. He was never cross and he was always an indulgent father and husband. Had he acted strangely, I should have known it. I cannot understand, oh, I cannot understand—but he would be better off dead. They've taken him away from Flint, I hear, to be safe from harm. Was it wise? I wonder."

Vienna Grand Prix New Race Planned For June Meeting

(International News Service)

VIENNA Jan. 17.—Two new turf prizes of $18,000 each, to be called the "Grand Prix do Vienne" have been established by anonymous donors in the hope of restoring the fame of the once renowned Freydenau track. The Grand Prix will be an international meeting June 10, 1928, and 1929, at Freudenau and will be open to all ambitious equines of three years of age or over, irrespective of race, color or nationality.

The prize will be distributed as usual between the three speediest nags, first getting 100,000 schillings; second 18,000 and third 7,000. The distance is 2400 meters.

Establishment of the Grand Prix de Vienne makes the Freudenau races one of the most important in Europe. Until now the largest Austrian turf prize since the war was the Austrian Derby paying about 30,000 schillings, or about $4,000.

Pennsylvania Night At Youngstown, Ohio

Raymond Swenk, Superintendent Of E. And A. Division To Attend

Raymond Swenk, divisional superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad with other local railroad men will attend the annual banquet of the Youngstown Builders Exchange at Hotel Ohio, Youngstown on Thursday evening, January 19.

The program will take the appearance of Pennsylvania night as the leading speaker will be E. T. Whiter of Pittsburgh, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Red Arrow quartet will furnish entertainment.

Other officials of the railroad who will attend are C. I. Leiper, general manager of Pittsburgh; P. L. Grove, general superintendent of Cleveland and J. A. Sonnhalter, divisional freight agent at Youngstown.

The banquet will be followed by music and entertainment by the Red Arrow quartet and others and the evening will end with the annual ball.

Daniel D. Tompkins and Thomas R. Marshall each served eight full years as vice president of the United States. John Adams, although serving two terms as vice president, was not sworn in until April 30, 1789, and he therefore lacked 48 days of eight years.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste", a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

FAMILY LIVES IN FLOATING HOME

Eight years ago, the Ozanne family—father, mother, daughter and son—decided on a "different" kind of life. They had been living in France. Although the family was wealthy and enjoyed the social position that came with the father's position as officer in the French navy, the parents chose to educate their children aboard a floating home, away from cities and their turmoil. Their home is the schooner Bretagne, shown above. Recently, it docked in San Francisco for a short visit. Photos show Captain Leo Ozanne and his daughter Leone, 16.

Woman Hurt While Automobile Guest Asks For $10,000

Suit Of Mrs. Nannie Cochran Against David M. Ritchie On Trial Today

Nannie C. Cochran and David C. Cochran are plaintiffs in a suit taken up before Judge Hildebrand in Lawrence county court this morning in which they are seeking to recover damages from David M. Ritchie as the result of an automobile accident while Mrs. Cochran was a guest in the Ritchie car.

It is claimed by the plaintiffs that on March 16, 1926, Mrs. Cochran was at the home of David M. Ritchie on South Mill street. Mrs. Cachran lives in Mahonigtown and Mr. Ritchie volunteered to take her home in his car.

The car was a coup with one seat and two doors. Ritchie drove down Long avenue and as he approached the intersection of Moravia street it is claimed that he was going at a speed in excess of 15 miles per hour. It is alleged that he did not slacken his speed as he reached the street intersection and that when he made the turn to the left on Moravia street, Mrs. Cochran was thrown against the door of the car with such force that the door flew open and she was precipitated into the street.

Her right elbow was dislocated, her wrist fractured and she was cut about the face as well as sustaining a severe shock to her nervous system. As a result she was unable to do anything for three months and $350 was expended by Mr. Cochran for medical attention.

In the suit filed Mr. Cochran wants $3,000 for money expended and the loss of services of his wife while Mrs. Cochran is asking for $10,000 as the result of her injuries.

The journey between Venice and Vienna, which takes 18 hours by train is now accomplished in a three-hour flight over the mountains.

Justice Is Not Slow In Butler

Youth Who Robbed Last Wednesday Now In Penitentiary

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 17.—Howard Trimble, aged 21, of Zellenople had a demonstration of the swiftness with which the legal machinery of Butler county may move at times. Trimble attacked George Malachoswski, aged 62, a watchman at the plant of the Herman Machine Company in Zellenople, last Wednesday night and robbed him of 65 cents.

Arrest

Chief of Police Thomas Quigley of Zellenople placed him under arrest Thursday morning and on the same day a confession was secured from the suspect. He was placed in the Butler jail and Saturday morning he was sentenced by Judge John R. Henninger to serve five to 10 years in the Western penitentiary.

Sentence

Trimble entered upon his sentence today, thereby figuring in one of the speediest cases handled by the Butler county court. The watchman was struck on the head with an iron bar weighing about five pounds, and was unconscious for several hours.

Boy Scout News

Troop 1.

Rotary troop 1 held its weekly meeting on Friday evening at the Benjamin Franklin school, with Scoutmaster Leroi Norton in charge. Committeemen Charles T. Metzler and Thomas Gilkey were also present. Thomas Gilkey presented the boys with their registration cards for the coming year.

Instructions were given in first aid and signaling, also in the tenderfoot requirements. Several boys succeeded in passing these tests. Anthony Kudapski, Dan Ryan and Harry Parsons passed signaling. Dan Ryan also passed knife and hatchet, banking and compass. Craig McBurney passed all the tenderfoot tests and Elmer Wiitanen passed tenderfoot knots.

Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan was present at this meeting and he expressed his appreciation of the progress that this troop is making, especially among the tenderfoot scouts. From all indications, Mr. Calahan stated, this troop will soon be one of the leading troops in Lawrence county.

Rotary troop 2, which is now the combination of troops 19 and 2, also met with Rotary troop 1 at the Ben Franklin school Friday evening for the purpose of reorganizing. Rotary troop 1 had promised all the aid that it is possible for them to give. Ray F. Hall of the New Castle Credit Exchange will act in the capacity of scoutmaster of this troop. Meetings will be held regularly for a time at the Franklin school every Friday evening.

Because of the good quality of the scouts in both of these troops, it is expected that much pleasant rivalry will exist, yet it is almost certain that both troops will become 100 per cent in scouting.

Troop 10.

A meeting of the Epworth M. E. church troop 10 will be held Tuesday, January 17, at 7 p. m. in the Aiken school.

Scoutmaster Guy L. Raney will be in charge of this meeting and as there are some very important announcements to be made and a fine program has been arranged. Mr. Raney urges all members of the troop to be present. A special invitation is extended to the members of the troop committee.

Troop 4.

A meeting of the Kiwanis troop 4 was held last Friday evening in the Mahoning school building with Assistant Scoutmaster J. H. Gwin in charge. A large number of scouts were present and several more applied for membership.

Five new scouts were taken into the troop at this meeting—Robert Logan, Norville Hockman, Keith King, Joseph Cearfoss and Russell Basterfield. The following representatives of the Kiwanis club were present: Troop Committee Chairman Mr. Fox and other members of the committee, Mr. Nunn, Mr. Baum, Mr. Patterson, Dr. C. C. Dickey, Charles E. McGrath, Mr. Drio, Mr. Logue and Mr. Curry. Each representative spoke to the boys in a very interesting way and pledged themselves to have at least two members of the committee present each meeting night. The men also encouraged the boys to continue in the splendid way in which they have been progressing and expressed their pleasure in the name of the entire Kiwanis club for having such a troop to sponsor.

Various tests were passed and practice in splicing a four-strand rope was held, as this event is in the schedule for the inter-troop contest which is to be held January 26 with troop 36.

Next week a demonstration of first aid will be given with Dr. C. C. Dickey in charge. Instructions and preparations will be made during the week by Dr. Dickey and several boys of the troop so that the meeting next Friday the demonstration may be put on 100 per cent. This meeting will be held in the Mahoning school and it is hoped by the officers of the troop that it will be as interesting, rousing and enthusiastic as that held last Friday evening.

Prothonotary Files More Than 50 Suits

Record Is Established In Mercer Court; Damage Collections Predominate

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 17.—A record for the filing of lawsuits has been established in this county. In the 14 days since taking office Mrs. J. C. Morse, the county prothonotary, has filed 53 common pleas actions.

At the present rate of filing there would be 300 cases listed for every term of this court of the four held annually.

The major portion of the cases are damage suits brought to collect as the result of automobile accidents. Suits aggregating $100,000 have been filed from Farrell alone of accidents occurring in that city.

HILLSVILLE

The Berean class will meet Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Chas. Hause of Carbon.

The Tiny Tots club met Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Blanche Garber. There were 15 members present. After the business meeting and Bible study games were the diversion of the afternoon. The hostess' mother served a delicious lunch. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Misses Dorothy, Edith Pepe.

Misses Francis Griffin, Margaret Davidson of Bessemer spent the week end as the guests of Miss Jane Gilmore.

Francis Grist was visiting in Bessemer Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchel were visiting in Lowellville, O., Sunday.

Miss Helen Eakin spent Sunday visiting relatives in Mahoningtown.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnston spent the week end with relatives in Niles, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gilmore were visiting in Hubbard, O., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Neil of Youngstown, O., were visiting relatives here Sunday.

Howard McCombs was visiting in Lowellville Saturday.

Lee Donaldson is visiting his parents at Clintonville.

Mrs. Minnie Porter spent Sunday with relatives in Youngstown.

G. P. Porter and Robert Stivers were recent Hubbard, O., visitors.

A fire of mysterious origin occurred here Saturday night when a coupe burned up. There was no one around the car. It bore Ohio license plates. No owner as yet has been found.

"Tired Of School" Pupils Set It Afire

ENGLISH, Ind., Jan. 17.—Edward Stonecipher and James Hughes, both 13 and pupils of the Burkhart school, near Marengo, have confessed they set fire to the school Wednesday because they were tired of going to school.

The bird known as the dodo has been extinct for nearly 250 years. In size it was a little bigger than a turkey, and its flesh was equally good to eat. It was incapable of real flights, owing to the fact that its wings were improperly developed, so that it was soon caught and eaten out of existence

Noted Organist Coming Again

Firmin Swinnen To Give Return Recital At Scottish Rite Cathedral

WILL PLAY HERE ON JANUARY 27

Firmin Swinnen is coming back to New Castle. To music lovers this is not a mere announcement, it's the promise of a treat, for Firmin Swinnen is one of the world's best organists. He will return to the Scottish Rite cathedral on January 27 for a recital on the Greer Memorial organ and the memory of his triumphant dedicatory recital some months ago is still fresh.

Firmin Swinnen is a Belgian by birth and training. During the war he left Antwerp as the Germans came in, and went to England. From there he came to America and in 1922 was made an American citizen. For some time he has been the organist for S. Pierre DuPont in Wilmington, Del., but consents to give recitals from time to time in various parts of the country.

He is being brought here under the auspices of the service division of the Scottish Rite cathedral. Originally he was scheduled for January 26, but because of the national commander's visit to the American Legion here and the banquet which will be held that night in the cathedral, the service division very generously offered to postpone their recital for one night.

To hear Firmin Swinnen is to hear one of the world's best. His artistry is remembered most pleasantly here and January 27 should see the cathedral auditorium filled for this return recital.

Miss Weingartner Named President

New Castle Girl To Head Sorority At Westminster For Coming Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 17.—Miss Elizabeth A. Weingartner of New Castle has been elected president of her sorority at Westminster to succeed Miss Dorothy Nevin, past president. Miss Weingartner will take over her duties as head of the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority at the beginning of the second semester.

Miss Dorothy Nevin of Pittsburgh, retiring president, has accepted a teaching position in Johnstown, Pa. She will leave to assume her new duties after the mid-term examinations, which will begin on Monday, Jan. 21.

The new president is a senior at Westminster and has been very active in the past few years in her sorority. She recently directed the costuming of the Y. W. C. A. play, "The Charm School", which was acclaimed a decided success.

Launch Battle On Vice Syndicate

Propose Use Of $10,000 Fund In Work In Allegheny County

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—The Allegheny county commissioners had before them today a proposition submitted by Controller C. C. McGovern to place $10,000 at the disposal of District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner, in his projected fight against an alleged vice syndicate said to be operating here.

McGovern also proposed that a $10,000 fund be set aside to reward citizens aiding in the arrest or assisting to solve murders attributed to the alleged syndicate. The rewards would not be available to peace officers.

Gardner, Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington and U. S. District Attorney John D. Meyer, have joined forces in a coordinated attempt to stamp out the vice syndicate. Twenty-three murders within the past year, all attributed to the syndicate, aroused the ire of the enforcement officers.

Take Action On Bridge Projects

By GEORGE H. MANNING
Washington Correspondent New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17—The house today passed the bill introduced by Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls, extending the time for commencing and completing the construction of a bridge across the Ohio river between Rochester and Monaca in Beaver county.

Under the bill work must be started within one year and completed within three years from the passage of the act. The Beaver county commissioners have given assurance that funds will be raised to build the span and plans already have been submitted for approval of the war department.

The house also passed the bill granting congressional consent for the construction of a bridge across the Allegheny river at Kittanning in Armstrong county. The bridge is to be toll free. Both bills now go to the senate.

Local Cement Plant Gets Safety Award

Of all the cement plants in the United States, only 10 were able to report no lost time accidents for the year 1927, and of these 10 New Castle plant number three of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company is one.

W. H. Kleckner, superintendent of the plant, has been notified by E. M. Young, president of the Lehigh Company, of this fact and further states that the plant has been awarded a Portland Cement Association trophy for the splendid record. The trophy is an eight-ton sculptured monument.

While the local plant gets a trophy for 1927, it really has a better record than this indicates. For 543 consecutive days the plant operated without a single lost time accident, an eloquent testimonial to the support of the safety first gospel and also a tribute to the watchfulness to the management and the men of the plant.

Mr. Kleckner has a letter from Mr. Young warmly congratulating him upon the splendid record and also a letter from Secretary of Labor and Industry Charles A. Waters.

GIRL RETURNS HOME POLICE DROP CASE

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 17.—State police discontinued their search at noon today for the alleged abductors of 16-year-old Helen McQuade of West Jeanette, whom her brother, Robert M. McQuaide, reported had been whisked away in a truck traveling in the direction of Greensburg late Sunday night.

College Orchestra Presents Program

Miss Elberta Kagy Directs Successful Concert At Westminster

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan 17.—Last night at the Community House in New Wilmington the newly organized 28-piece college orchestra gave its first concert of the present school year. The orchestra was skillfully directed by Miss Elberta Kagy, instructor of violin of the Music Conservatory of the college.

A large and appreciative audience gathered to hear the well arranged and varied program. Some of the numbers which were well received were "Andantino, Moonlight and Roses," by Lemare played by the orchestra and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" by Pochon which was played by the stringed quartet.

The stringed quartet consiting of John Louden of Mars, first violin; Victoria Luca of Farrell, second violin; Frank Colgrove of Coraopolis, cello; and Elberta Kagy of the Westminster conservatory faculty, viola, made a decided hit in the three numbers they rendered.

Agar-agar is the name of gelatinous substance obtained from Ceylon moss and similar seaweeds. The name is of Malay origin. Agar-agar is used in soups and jellies and in the artificial cultivation of ax bacteria. It is also used in the Orient as a glue and to render silk and paper transparent.

CLUB WOMEN AT WORK

Conducted By The Woman's Club Of New Castle

Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, sends the following New Year's message:

Dear Club Women:

My message to you this New Year's is a message of faith and courage. May they be your guiding stars, for they give strength to go forward; cheerd by their own accomplishments will be of enduring purposes.

My hopes for the future of our great organization are higher and greater today than ever before. In view of the superb service and the tremendous accomplishment of the past year, I vision the future only in the light of unselfish and exalted thought and achievement hitherto unthought of.

The New Year is symbolic of every day—for our yesterdays are past, tomorrow has not come, but today is ours, the day of opportunity. This is the last year of a national administration. May I depend upon you to do your utmost to bring to fruition our long cherished plans and ambitions, to determine in your hearts and minds to round out the year to complete the tasks we have undertaken?

May the year of 1928 be the best and happiest year that each and everyone of you has ever spent.

Faithfully yours,
MARY SHERMAN.

Mrs. Sherman presided at a conference held at General Federation headquarters Tuesday, December 13, at which were present representatives of the American Federation of Labor, organizations of manufacturers and the national committee on Prisons and Prison Labor.

This conference had under consideration the "Cooper" Bill to divest goods, wares and merchandise manufactured, produced or mined by convicts or prisoners of their inter-state character in certain cases, the passage of which will facilitate the abolition of the prison contract system.

It was decided to undertake an intensive campaign to interest the "people back home" in the bill by bringing the facts in regard to prison labor before local clubs of men and women, chambers of commerce, etc.

At the meeting of the General Federation Board at headquarters Jan. 9-13 every state in the Union was represented. Besides transacting the regular business there were social events and two historic pilgrimages.

One was to the grave of the unknown soldier at Arlington National cemetery where a wreath was placed on the tomb and the other was to Mt. Vernon. This latter was of special interest because the club women were met and escorted about by Mrs. Eleanor Wahington Howard the youngest child of John Augustus Washington, the last owner of Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Howard was born on this beautiful estate and has a greater wealth of historic information concerning the home and its once celebrated occupants than any other person.

Sunshines, Greeters and Telephone are three unusual committees in the Hillsboro Coffee club of Oregon. The Sunshine committee which visits the sick and sends flowers, finances its work with a "penny march" at every club meeting; the Greeters' committee calls on all new comers and the Telephone committee calls members early each meeting day to remind them of the meetings.

The Scarsdale Womens club of about 900 members of Scarsdale, N. Y., is doing conspicuous community service.

The club owns and publishes the town newspaper, conducts a night school in which foreigners are taught English and civics, provides a summer playground with trained directors, supports a visiting nurse, fosters a girl's club and provides a trained leader and is one of a committee responsible for the thrift shop in White Plains.

The club house is "Wayside" on the Post road—the oldest house in the town and historically noted as one of the headquarters of General Washington during the battle of White Plains.

School Boy, Houdini Imitator, Hangs Self

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—What his parents believe was an attempt at a "Houdini" trick with a rope caused the death last night of George McLean Curtis Jr., 15, high school student.

The body was found hanging from a beam in the cellar of the house today by the boy's father, who said his boy was a dabbler in Houdini tricks and had no reason to commit suicide.

Coroner J. Ramsey Nevitt, however, issued a verdict of suicide with the explanation that he believed the youth's death was "due to an obsession regarding hangings".

No Idle Prisoners In Cambria Jail

EBENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 17.—Prisoners in the Cambria county jail not available for outside work in and about county institutions will be put to work making overalls and other clothing for use in the jail and other county institutions, it was decided by the prison board at its annual meeting here today.

The board has authorized the county commissioners to install the necessary equipment for this work.

Mercer Shows Wool At State Exhibit

Displays Also Include Dairy Products And County Grown Potatoes

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 17.—Mercer County Sheep Growers' Association will again enter the ranks for a county championship in wool growing by sending to Harrisburg for the state products show opening there today a big show of county grown wool.

The cup which is given in recognition of first position in this industry made its home in Mercer county one year. It will spend 1928 here if the plans of the association officers materialize.

A show of dairy products: butter, eggs and milk, has also been shipped.

There will also be a show of county grown potatoes at this event.

The Volant basketball team played a losing game with Shenango high Friday evening, the score being Shenango 14 and Volant 7.

The roads here are not much improved. The road leading to New Wilmington is very rough and is almost impassable in some places. Also the road to Leesburg is very bad, too. Very few autos are seen on it now.

Miss Wylda Lusk, who is employed at New Castle, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lusk.

Mrs. Ella Caldwell of New Castle spent Friday at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Allen.

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, throat tickle, bronchial asthma, or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—Persons in Lawrence county who killed noxious animals in December were paid $138 for their work by the State Game Commission. During the month there were 138 weasels slain in the county. The commission pays a dollar each for all weasels killed. The total number killed in the state last month was 14,393.

Must Report Auto Accidents

A misunderstanding regarding reporting of motor vehicle accidents, if damage of more than $50 is done, is cleared up this morning by Bernard N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club, following a communication from Ben G. Eynon, registrar of motor vehicles, at Harrisburg.

"Within 24 hours after the accident happens," states Mr. Hanlon, "it must be reported to the State Highway Department, and, if it happens in a city or borough it must be reported in duplicate to the local police department. And in deciding if property damage alone should be reported the department has ruled that the total amount of damage sustained of all vehicles or objects involved in the accident be used as a basis.

"The accident must be reported on a form furnished by the department. A supply of these forms is on hand at the offices of the motor club on North Mercer street."

Ponton Is Awarded $204.90 For 'Coon Dog By 12 Jurors

Warren Vance Who Had Bought Dog For $150 Gets To Keep Him By Paying Verdict

In the 'coon dog case of Fidel Ponton of Anandale, Butler county against Warren Vance of Big Beaver township, the jury brought in a verdict at noon today in favor of the plaintiff for $204.90, of which $200 is for the dog and $4.90 damages. Mr. Vance will get to keep the dog owing to the fact he had put up a counter bond when the dog was replevined. The verdict awarded Ponton is the value of the dog in the estimation of the jury.

Mr. Vance originally paid $150 for the dog, not knowing that he been stolen. On the witness stand Monday afternoon he told how he had secured the dog.

He said that he had first seen the dog at a meeting of 'coon hunters at Midland, Beaver county. He had taken a fancy to him and tried to buy him from Russell Williams of this city, who had him on exhibition. No agreement was reached at this time, but six days later Williams sold him the dog for $150. Vance said that he believed $150 to be more than any 'coon dog is worth, but you sometimes have to pay that much or more if you want a good dog.

Sometime after he had taken the dog home Vance said that three men came to his home and asked him if he had any 'coon dogs. He replied that he had three. They wanted to buy one but Vance told them that none of them were for sale.

Later the man who had asked about buying a dog came back and asked to see the dogs. Vance consented. The man told him that he had given a ficticious name on his first visit but that his right name was Ponton. He looked the dogs over carefully, examining minutely the dog which Vance had bought from Williams. "Ponton asked me what the dog was worth," continued Vance, "and I told him I had paid $150 for him. He wanted to buy him, but I told him that he was not for sale.

"Afterwards a state policeman came and told me that I had a dog that had been stolen. He wanted to take the dog, but I refused to let him have it, telling him that I had come honestly by the dog, and that if he wanted to take him he had his legal recourse. Later the sheriff came with a writ of replevin and I gave the dog up, getting him back again after I had furnished bond."

Russell Williams from whom Vance had purchased the dog, testified that he had traded another dog for him with a person that he did not know. Williams stated that he had no idea when he made the trade, that the dog had been stolen.

There was considerable testimony on the value of 'coon dogs.

Finds Wallet With Papers Of Former Soldier

Mont McKee, driver of a tractor for the city of New Castle, street department, while on Neshannock avenue this morning, found a wallet.

The wallet was examined and found to contain the honorable discharge papers of Corporal Lawrence E. Morrow, Company D, ninth infantry, and were signed by Colonel E. G. Payton.

The wallet and papers have been turned over to Attorney George W. Muse and the owner may have them by calling at Muse's office on the third floor of the Union Trust company building on North Mercer street.

Richards Speaks At Lions' Meeting

The procedure of the Pennsylvania State Legislature was graphically described by Bart Richards, assemblyman from New Castle, at the regular luncheon meeting of the Lions club, held at noon today in the dining room of the Elks home.

Mr. Richards went on to state the many difficulties in the passage of a bill, how it was referred to the different committees before passage, and the many snares which lay on the legislative floor to entrap it before it finally becomes a law.

After Mr. Richards' address, A. H. Bartlett of the Max Ludwig company told the Lions of the banquet which is to be held in the Scottish Rite cathedral on the evening of January 23 in connection with the convention of the Pennsylvania Outdoor Advertising association. Lardo Taft, a sculptor of international prominence, and Judge E. Allen Frost of Chicago, will be the speakers. Mr. Bartlett urged all members of the Lions club to get their tickets before Friday, January 20, for no more will be sold after that date.

How to get a reputation for wisdom? Oh, say undisputed things in a ponderous way.

House Votes For Squelching Of Tariff Measure

(International News Service)

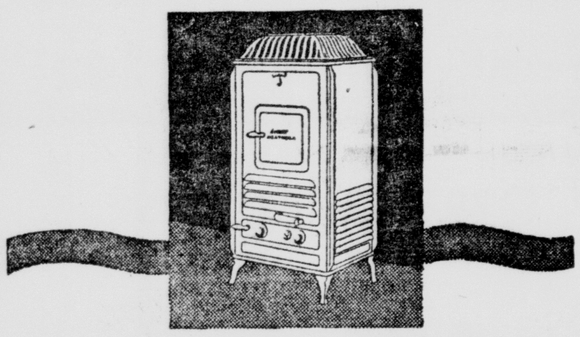

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — The house today promptly and decisively squelched the senate demand for downward tariff devision.

By a vote of 183 to 164, the house sustained a ruling of Speaker Longworth refusing to refer the McMaster resolution to a house committee.

The senate yesterday adopted the resolution.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of Fort Phil Kearney—Part XVII
The Story Of Fort Phil Kearney:

DECEMBER 22, 1866. THE DAY AFTER THE ANNIHILATION OF CAPT. FETTERMAN'S FORCE BY THE SIOUX NEAR FORT PHIL KEARNEY, THERE WAS NO SIGN OF INDIANS IN THE IMMEDIATE VICINITY OF THE POST, AND GEN. CARRINGTON SET OUT WITH EVERY MAN THAT COULD BE SPARED TO RECOVER THE 32 BODIES THAT STILL LAY ON THE FIELD OF DISASTER.

THOSE LEFT AT THE FORT WERE INSTRUCTED TO SIGNAL THE COLUMN IF ATTACKED. THE POWDER MAGAZINE WAS WELL STOCKED WITH FOOD AND WATER, AND HERE THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN WERE PLACED UNDER GUARD OF AN OFFICER WHO HAD ORDERS NOT TO LET ANY OF THEM BE CAPTURED ALIVE SHOULD THE HOSTILES GAIN THE FORT.

PROCEEDING CAUTIOUSLY TO THE SCENE OF THE AMBUSCADE, THE SEARCHING PARTY COLLECTED ALL THE SLAIN AND LAID THEM IN THE WAGONS. ON EVERY HAND WERE GRIM EVIDENCES OF THE TERRIBLE STRUGGLE THAT HAD TAKEN PLACE. IN THE EVENING, CARRINGTON RETURNED TO THE FORT AND FOUND THAT ALL HAD BEEN QUIET IN HIS ABSENCE.

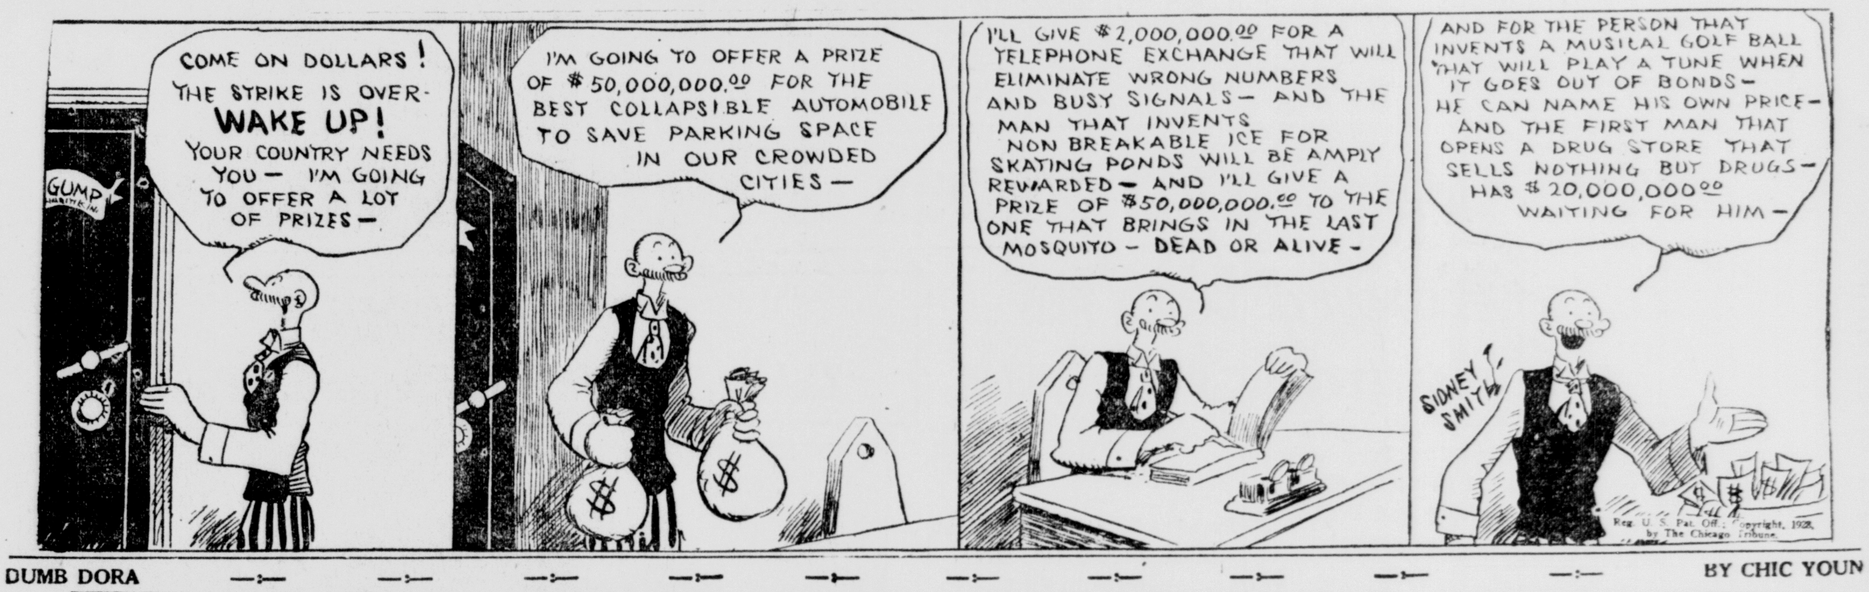

THE GENERAL AT ONCE SENT A RIDER TO BEAR THE NEWS OF THE APPALLING TRAGEDY TO THE FRONTIER POSTS. THE COURIER WAS DELAYED BY A BLIZZARD AND THE REPORT OF THE MASSACRE DID NOT REACH FORT LARAMIE UNTIL CHRISTMAS DAY.

CONCLUDED TOMORROW.

Donohue-Solomon Fight Evokes Controversy

Officials Award Bout To Solomon

Jimmy Kirkpatrick Of Ellwood City Wins From Johnny Slait Of New Castle; Roy Minteer Wins By Knockout Over Jimmy Marcella And Joe White And Emil Smalnex Fight Four-Round Draw

By ED. FRITZ
News Sports Editor

How do they get that way?

That is the query I ask today after witnessing the bout between Mike Solomon and Pickles Donohue at the old Armory last night, and in which Mike was presented with a technical knockout instead of being disqualified for an unintentional foul in the fourth round of a bout scheduled for six rounds.

The decision, which rankled the fight fans, was given by Mike Kane, deputy commissioner of boxing, after Referee George Chip and Judges Chauncey Davis and Tommy Jones declared they had not seen the blow. Dr. Swaney examined Pickles and said he had been injured.

I sat on the north side of the ring and was in a splendid position to see what happened. Chip was not in a position to see the punch. Neither were Davis or Jones.

I'll explain this by stating that when Donohue and Solomon were fighting on the ropes Solomon's back was toward Davis. Donohue's back was toward Jones. Chip was near the center of the ring.

In the middle of the fourth they were fighting to and fro across the ring. They wrestled to the ropes on the west side of the ring.

They exchanged punches to the head, then commenced pounding each other's stomach. Donohue wrapped his arms around Solomon's neck, leaving Solomon's hands free, and his own stomach as a target.

Mike continued to strike to the stomach, then sent a left and a right at close quarters below the waist line. Donohue commenced sagging to the floor.

Pulls Solomon Down

His arms were still wrapped around Solomon's neck and the weight of Donohue's body pulled Solomon down with him. When Solomon fell his right knee landed below the waist line.

Referee Chip did not count.

Instead he tried to pull Pickles to his feet.

This is contrary to rules of the ring.

If, in his opinion, Donohue had not been fouled he should have commenced counting. If Donohue had been fouled he should have called it and waved Solomon to his corner pending a doctor's examination of Donohue.

After considerable argument a doctor was found. Dr. Swaney said he found that Donohue had been injured. He did not say he had been fouled.

Donohue agreed to rest, then continue the bout. He decided finally he could not and Deputy Boxing Commissioner Kane awarded the bout to Solomon on a technical knockout.

They say the hand is quicker than the eye. I agree with this in part only as Solomon's hands were not too quick for my eyes last night. I saw his hands dart out and saw his knee fall on Donohue.

I do not believe he did this intentionally. They were fighting wildly and anything is apt to happen in a ring with young, inexperienced boys and officials should see every move that is going on.

That is the way I stand in regard to the fight. That is the way I saw it and this is the way I am calling it.

Up to the time of the sad occurrence it was a night's fight, pugilistically speaking, and the fight was a whale. It was a million dollar fight for $1.10 and $1.65.

Mike Takes Third.

In the first round Pickles clipped Mike with a right hand punch and dropped him to his hand and knee but he got right up and then Solomon dropped Donohue with a right uppercut delivered at close range.

I figured the round even then Donohue and Solomon stepped forth in the second with Mickie best at long range and Donohue excelling at close quarters and again they fought evenly.

Mike slipped in a wet corner in the third and Solomon was wrestled over the ropes a minute later. Mickie shot right and left to the head and flashed out in front and took the round.

Pickles was weakening in the fourth and Donohue was holding as much as possible while he fought with the hand he held free. They wrestled to and fro and then went to the ropes.

They exchanged blows to the head and then started to punch to the body. Donohue grabbed Solomon around the neck which left Solomon's both hands free.

Solomon worked viciously for a few seconds then sent a left and a right below the waist line. Donohue sank slowly, pulling Mike on top of him to the floor and Solomon's right knee struck him below the belt.

That act created considerable excitement but we're here to say that the promoter is not to blame for what occurred. He has no jurisdiction after the bell rings.

Throw in Towel.

Following the bout I suggested they be rematched and not at a weight of 151 for Donohue and 143 for Solomon but at a compromise, says 145 for both. I think this would decide a winner.

Jimmy Kirkpatrick of Ellwood, 126, knocked out Johnny Slait of New Castle, 132, in the third round when someone tossed in a towel while Slait was on his feet.

Kirkpatrick and Slait fought like two gorillas in the first round and it was a great round with honors even. In the second round Slait walked into Kirkpatrick and staggered the Ellwood boy.

His punches to the head contained dynamite and a right sent Kirkpatrick down for nine. He arose but was taking it good and plenty and Kirkpatrick lost the round.

Kirkpatrick assumed the aggressive in the third and staggered Slait with a right to the jaw then felled Slait on the ropes with a right.

Slait retaliated with a terrific right to the jaw and Kirkpatrick was weak when suddenly a towel was flung in from Slait's corner, giving the fight to Kirkpatrick.

Slait was on his feet at the time and even though the fighting was tough he appeared to be the best boxer and puncher of the two and it would be wise to rematch them.

Roy Minteer knew too much and hit too hard for Jimmy Marcella and stopped him in the fourth. Joe White and Emil Smalnex fought a hard four-round draw.

Boy Scouts Assist The Game Protector

Frank N. Johnston, district game protector, assisted by the New Wilmington Boy Scouts and their scoutmaster Jack Hulme, on last Saturday constructed a large number of shelters for small game in the Wilmington and Neshannock township districts. There was a big turnout of the boys, who had a splendid time assisting in this work, which means so much for the conservation of small game in this county.

Delaney Wins By Knockout In Garden Battle

Former Light-Heavyweight Champion Flattens Montgomery In First

PAULINO WINS BY K. O. PUNCH

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The ballyhoo for Tex Rickard's new heavyweight elimination tournament was given an energetic boost today by the revelation that two of the participants possess that most highly-prized ring asset, a knockout punch.

In warm-up bouts here last night Jack Delaney touched off the long dormant dynamite in his right mitt and knocked out Sully Montgomery in the first round, and Paulino Uzcudun surprised everybody, including himself, by registering a technical knockout over Ed Keeley in the second round.

There was nothing technical about Delaney's knockout. Anybody could understand it. The former light heavyweight champion flattened Montgomery in 20 seconds of the first round with a right cross to the chin. Montgomery, who used to batter opposing linemen to a pulp when he played football at Center college, was knocked unconscious and was not revived for six minutes.

Delaney's second punch of the fight did the business. It was one of the shortest fights on record.

Paulino finished Keeley with a terrific right smash to the stomach. The Bridgeport, Conn., battler was standing up when the referee stopped the party. Keeley was helpless, however, and would have been polished off by the Basque's next wallop.

The fight lasted less than six minutes. Paulino, who was suspended by the boxing commissions of two states last year for refusing to go through with a scheduled bout against Keeley, pounded his opponent at will.

SORDS POINTS

Gehrig Specializes In Runner-Up Positions

Although Lou Gehrig won only one honor in slugging last season he proved to be the greatest runner-up man of the majors in that respect. Lou ran off with the two-base hit laurels by slamming out 52, one more than George Burns of the Indians, who finished second. He was second in the number of base hits with 218, trailing Combs who had 231. In three-base hits he shared the runner-up position with Heinie Manush of the Tigers. He gave Ruth the battle of his life for home run honors but fell behind in the closing days of the season finishing with 47 as compared with Ruth's record of 60. In total bases Gehrig collected 447 and Ruth 417, but Lou was at bat 584 times to the Babe's 540 which put Gehrig in the runner-up position in the slugging averages with .765, trailing Ruth's .772 mark. In scoring runs Gehrig trailed Ruth's 153 with 149.

Incidentally Gehrig and Ruth combined to set a record unheard of before by two men of the same team. Between them they scored 397 runs and made 410 hits of which 196 were singles, 81 doubles, 26 triples and 107 home runs. Being at bat 1,124 times gives them a slugging average of .769.

Freshmen Girls Defeat Juniors

Interesting Games Are Played In Westminster College Class League

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 17.—In the girls' class league basketball tournament at Westminster the Freshman sextet won their first game of the year yesterday when they defeated the Junior team 31 to 5. Miss Kopanski of the Freshman team was the star of the contest, accounting for 19 points.

Westminster Plays Allegheny Tonight

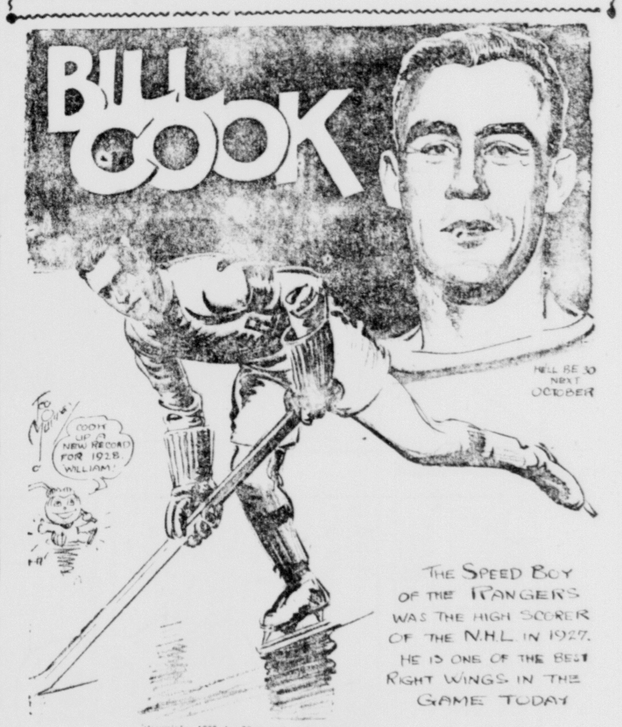

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 17.—Coach John Lawther's Westminster Titans face a heavy assignment tonight when they face the strong Allegheny College five at Meadville. While Coach Baker of the Methodists has been telling "bear stories" concerning the material he has available, his team has been giving such aggregations as W. & J. and West Virginia plenty of opposition. At all events, the game should be a close one.

After the showing made against Geneva and Thiel in Conference games last week, when Westminster won by 29-18 and 45-26 scores, respectively, local fans are looking for enough improvement in the blue and white squad so that more victories may be garnered within the next month.

On Saturday night an aggregation of former Westminster stars representing the alumni will face the varsity in the college gymnasium here. It is thought that Harold "Rusty" Coles, coach of the Elizabeth high team; John Hetra, former all-conference forward, and many others well known to Westminster followers, will be in the alumni line-up.

Bullet Bill — By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

The saying that "Too many cooks spoil the broth" does not apply in hockey it seems as Bill Cook and his younger brother Bun have been and are two of the mainstays of the New York Rangers, the team that finished the 1926-1927 season at the top of the American group of the National Hockey league. There are no more delightful players to watch than these two Cook boys—for both are fine-looking, stalwart, steel muscled, nervy cyclones who swoop up and down the ice armed with their hickory sticks and dare a thousand deaths an evening for the sake of dear Old Colonel Hammond the Rangers Prexy.

But this is about Bill Cook the elder brother who was christened "William O." soon after he was born on October 9, 1898 in Brantford, Ontario. Bill's dad and uncle both having been famous hockey and lacrosse players, it is quite natural that the youngster should prove adept at the game. It wasn't long before he became a "Conquering William' of the steel-blades and in 1925 he found himself the leading scorer of the Western league with 42 points to his credit.

In 1926 Bill was at the top again with 46 points so that when he was purchased with brother Bun (the two are inseparable) by Colonel Hammond for $15,000 from Saskatoon, it was no surprise when he finished his first season in the N. H. L. as its leading point-getter. Bill's 37 markers in the 1926-'27 season were accounted for by 33 goals and four assits, putting him one ahead of Dick Irvin of Chicago.

Feg Murray Says.

Not content with cutting a figure eight on the ice, Frigid Coldblade, figure-skating champ of Corsica, finally mastered the difficult feat of doing two fours and adding them together.

Will Liberate Racoons In Lawrence County

Raccoon hunting, which came to an official close Saturday night, January 14, has been highly successful in Lawrence county during the season, which just came to a close. At least 200 raccoons were taken in the county during the hunting season.

The fact that raccoon hunting, the season for which ends each year on January 15, has become interesting and successful again, in Lawrence county, is due to the fact that the Lawrence County Coon Hunters Association is made up of a bunch of fine sportsmen, who hunt the raccoon for the thrill of the chase, rather than the meat or hide and co-operate in every way with the game authorities in the protection and propogation of the raccoon.

District Game Protector Frank N. Johnston plans to start the liberation of some twenty- five or twenty-eight raccoons, now in his possession, as soon as possible, since the hunting season for that little animal is now over.

During the season the Lawrence County Coon Hunters Association purchased twenty-eight raccoon and these have been released in all parts of the county. Game Protector Johnston has also secured twenty-five from the board of game commissioners, these being the ones that will be released in the next few days.

This co-operation of the coon hunters of the county with the game authorities is resulting in the raccoon, once very plentiful in Lawrence county, coming back and increasing. Many years ago, it was not impossible to get four or five chases a night. In those days, the hunter shot the raccoon out of the tree. Now the local as well as all coon hunting organizations urge the practice of hunting for the enjoyment of the chase, rather than the meat. The result has been extremely beneficial in Lawrence county, according to Game Protector Frank N. Johnston.

The coon hunters of the county, according to Mr. Johnston, are a splendid group of sportsmen, practicing every method to conserve the quarry which affords them so much pleasure and recreation and also being unselfish, landing a helping hand in the conservation of other game and sharing their part of the expense.

More Hungarian Quail For County

Game Protector Frank Johnston Reports This Small Game Increasing

According to Game Protector Frank N. Johnston, the Hungarian quail released in Wilmington and Hickory townships, are doing nicely and there are now at least sixteen fine covies of these fine game birds known to exist in the county. The increase has been due to favorable conditions and the fact that the sportsmen have been adhering to the closed season regulations.

There is at present, according to Game Protector Johnston, a shipment of 15,000 Hungarian quail enroute to this country from Hungary for distribution in the state of Pennsylvania. These will be distributed in thirty-four counties of the state and Lawrence county is one of the fortunate counties.

They will arrive from overseas in about two weeks and the Lawrence county allotment of between one hundred and one hundred and fifty of these fine game birds, will be sent here as soon as they arrive in this country.

These will be distributed in the Wilmington and Hickory township districts, in order that new covies may be created by the mixing of the new and old groups of birds.

BEAVER FALLS TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Meet Locals In League Battle

New Castle High School Basketball Team To Meet Tigers Here This Evening

New Castle Girls To Play Beaver Falls Maidens In Prelim At 7:15 O'clock

With three league victories this season the New Castle High School basketball team will tackle Beaver Falls High at the Senior High gym floor tonight. The girls of the two schools will play the preliminary at 7:15 o'clock.

The locals are ready for a hard game with the Beaver Falls team, true it is that the valley team to date has not had a very successful season, but they are a different team when engaged in combat with the New Castle High tossers. Coach Heckathorne has given the Tiger outfit plenty of work this week in preparation for the game here tonight.

Coach Bridenbaugh has intimated that he will start his regular lineup against Beaver Falls, with Reider, Cuba, Alexander, Sillman and Ostrosky on the floor at the start of the battle.

A victory tonight will give the locals a big edge in their fight for the Section III title. Butler High will be playing at Mars and if the Mars boys defeat Butler while New Castle wins from Beaver Falls the locals will take undisputed possession of first place in the loop standing.

The New Castle High Girls team after that heart-rendering setback at the hands of Sharon recently, hope to atone for this defeat tonight by taking the Beaver Falls maidens into camp.

The Rick-Overlands are ready for their important game on Wednesday night with the strong P. H. C. team of Sharon. The game will be played on the Y. M. C. A. floor. The Central Christians of the church league will meet the Pitt Orioles in the first game of the evening. The initial battle starts at 8 o'clock. The P. H. C. team recently defeated the locals in a hard fought game at Sharon.

The Casa Savoia Big Five will play the Croton M. E. team of the New Castle church league on Wednesday night at the House of Savoia gym. There will be two league games preceding the big attraction.

Tonight on the Rose avenue court the Liberty Five of the city league will meet the Trojans. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock. On Wednesday night the fast going Liberty Five will play the Masury, O., quintet at the Masury floor. The following players are asked to report at the Rose avenue school tonight at 7 o'clock: Clark, McKay, Hannon, Reiber, Woods, Parker, Honkonen, Kroen and Kearns.

Messrs Doc Crandall and Art Griggs are to take their Wichita baseball team to California for Spring training. Last year the Witches finished in second place in the Western League race and the club bosses propose to spare no expense in conditioning the players for a real fight for pennant honors this season.

JUST A BIT OF FAMILY FUN

No holds are barred in the family battles of the Joe Stechers. But the battles are all in fun. The wrestler of heavyweight championship fame lives in Garden Grove, Cal. He is shown here with Mrs. Stecher and they are having their morning tussle.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Unless John McGraw puts over another startling deal between now and April the jolly New York Giants will start the 1928 campaign without the slightest imitation of a drawing card to use as a counter irritant for Babe Ruth.

Of course Gentleman Jawn has those white flannel trousers which he dons while being photographed in Florida every spring. And he has Al Tierney, the biggest private detective holding a secretarial position in the major leagues.

And there is Buck O'Neil of the newspaper squad, the Beau Brummel of the scribe army that follows the Giants annually.

But as for a real honest-to-goodness gate attraction in uniform who can do tricks for the fans after enticing them in—well, the Giants just haven't anything along that line.

It has been suggested that Jawn might sign Will Rogers as a catcher. Judging from the way Earl Smith rattled Washington a couple of years ago with his chatter behind the plate Lariat Bill ought to be able to do the job.

Rogers might miss a few pitches, but not even Johnny Gooch can catch all of them.

Rogers has been mentioned as a presidential candidate. He'd be in much better company on the ball field than he would be on the floor of the senate.

He has never contracted any gambling debts, but that shouldn't be held against him. He doesn't own any stock in any of the major league clubs—which leaves him a free agent, so to speak.

Then there is Ruth Elder, the first woman to fly across the Atlantic, who could be billed as "the first woman Giant." A little late to do the Ringlings any good, but a good idea.

Then there is Graham McNamee, famous radio announcer, who gets his football and flowers mixed up so delightfully. He might miss a few line drives as an outfielder but he could make up for that by announcing the arrival of the various celebrities, including One-eyed Connolly.

None of these may appeal to McGraw's fancy but there's the germ of an idea in them, anyhow.

Castletons Trim Olympics 34-6

The Castletons defeated the Olympics 34 to 6 in a game played at the Rose avenue gym floor Monday night.

The Castletons were far superior to the Olympics in every department of the game. Schu and Chernvaski were the big stars.

The summary:

Castletons 34		Olympics 6
Schu	F	Slonerick
Montgomery	F	Sisko
Chernvaski	C	Vesenski
Eckard	G	Danish
White	G	Charles

Field goals—Montgomery 4, Chernvaski 4, Schu 3, Eckard 2, Sisko, Danish.

Fouls—Castletons 8 out of 13, Olympics 2 out of 12.

Scorer—M. Slosnerick.
Timer—M. Slosnerick.
Referee—Hank.

WOLVERINES DEFEND B. B. TITLE

Playing in defense of the Big Ten basketball title, which they held for two years, the University of Michigan's quintet hopes to deliver a stronger finish than they have showed in the early season. Several new candidates may develop into capable performers in the course of the season. Chapman, sophomore center; Raber, forward, and Rose, guard, are likely prospects. Harrigan and Oosterbaan now are bearing the brunt of the work. McCoy, veteran guard, is another mainstay. Gawne, forward, has shown to advantage in practice games.

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

The Giants' statement that Hornsby was traded to Boston for two unknown youngsters "for the good of the team" makes us wonder what team.

The Yanks ought to follow suit and trade Babe Ruth for the good of the neighborhood window panes.

With Gehrig thrown into the bargain, Huggins ought to get a pretty fair high school pitcher for the Bam.

Boston Braves fans were speechless when they heard the news. It was the first time they ever owned a ball player.

McGraw hurried to Cuba right after the swap. Maybe he's going to trade the Polo grounds for a stein of real beer.

Now that Boston has Hornsby, the team has only eight more positions open.

Speaking of swaps, the Indians gypped the whites when they traded Manhattan Island for a pint of real whisky. You can find islands anywhere.

Pat Hayden Heads County Coon Hunters

At a recent well attended meeting of the Lawrence County Coon Hunters Association held in the Y. M. C. A., Pat Hayden was elected as president of the organization for the ensuing year. Mr. Hayden is a well known sportsman of this city.

The other officers elected are Melvin M. Osborne, Ellwood City, vice president; Oliver McNees, treasurer; Charles Pugh, assistant treasurer; Charles G. Martin, secretary.

The organization is planning to continue its co-operation with the game authorities of the county and state in the propogation, protection and conservation of not only the raccoon but all small game found in this district.

Uncovers Tragedy

A 77-years-buried trace of the famous Bennett expedition which burned its wagons in Death Valley and struck out on foot overland for Los Angeles with the children and a few personal belongings on oxen back, has been found by A. F. Eads, veteran prospector, who dug up the hand-forged oxen chain shown above. It is the only known existing trace of the expedition.

Fast Games In Savoia League

Two fast games were staged in the House of Savioa League on Monday night at the Savoia gym floor.

In the first game the Beverages defeated the Marcellas 28 to 16, and in the second game the Soft Drinks snatched a 29 to 27 victory over the Bullanos in a game that required an extra-period to decide.

The summaries:

Marcellas 16		Beverages 28
Tuscano	F	A. Gennock
E. Gennock	F	Vitale
Bordanaro	C	Turco
Zingler	G	DeLorenzo
Pagley	G	Venditto

Sub—J. Mash. Field goals: Tuscano, Bordanaro 4, Pagley, Mash, A. Gennock 4, Vitale 3, Turco 5, Venditto. Fouls: Beverages 2 out of 8. Marcellas 2 out of 9. Referee: Y. Marcella.

Bullanos 27		Soft Drinks 29
Ciccone	F	Mancine
Ciotto	F	Nocera
F. Gennock	C	Bobbino
DiGregory	G	Russo
S. Isabella	G	Y. Marcella

Field goals: Ciccone 3, Ciotto 5, Gennock, DiGregory, Mancine 5, Nocera, Y. Marcella 6. Fouls: Bullanos 7 out of 9. Soft Drinks 5 out of 5. Referee—Natale.

Sectional trials of the National Collegiate A. A. for the selection of Olympic performers will be held as follows: Wrestling, at Ames, Ia., March 30-31; swimming at the University of Pennsylvania, March 30-31; track and field, at Chicago, June 8-9.

AGE FORTY—DANGER

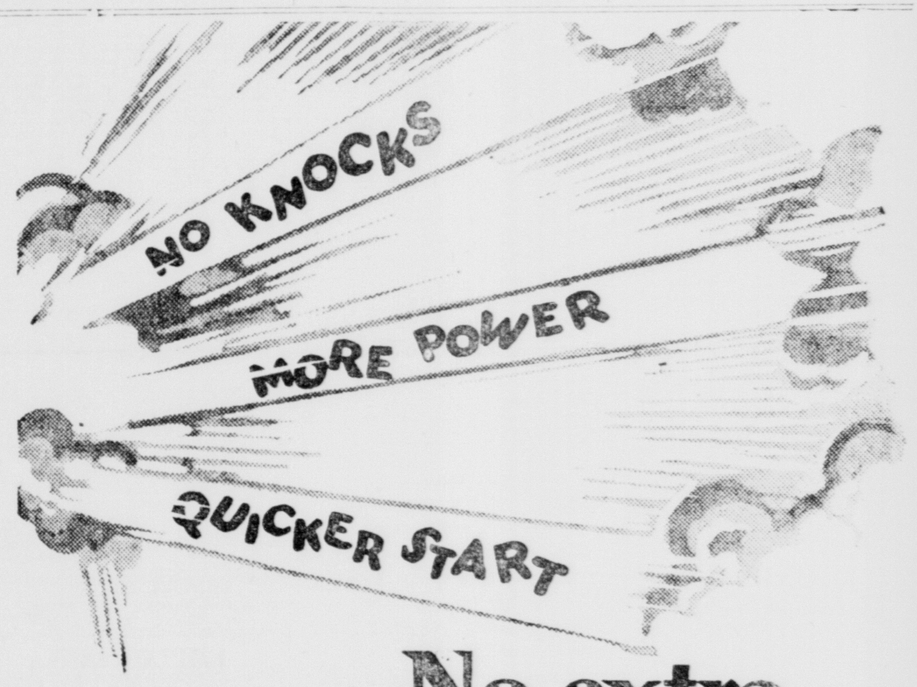

Most people are dead at 60 because their vital forces begin to wane around age of 40. Elderly people fall easy victims to colds which often develop into pneumonia.

Enrich and fortify your blood. Stimulate your resistance. Remember that for a few cents you can get Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea from your druggist. Take it hot to break up your cold. Wise mothers and fathers make it their winter health guardian.

No extra charge for this new gasoline

Peppier!
Zippier!
More Powerful!
Quicker Starting!
Free from Knocks!

A FEW weeks ago this new Pennzoil Gasoline was introduced. Pressure-vaporized in Pennzoil's great new gasoline plant—"cracked" by the most advanced process known today.

Almost at once the word went 'round. "It's a better gasoline! It's different!"

Just a few short weeks—and already everybody's talking.

If you haven't tried this new gasoline, do it today—tomorrow—first time you need fuel. You'll be an enthusiast, too.

THE PENNZOIL COMPANY • Oil City, Pa.

Pennzoil Motor
Pennzoil motor gasoline is of such purity and high quality that it is crystal white.

Pennzoil Ethyl
Pennzoil Ethyl is the same pure, high quality fuel, treated with Ethyl fluid and dyed red for easy identification.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Further recoveries in the motor stocks helped to impart a firmer tone to the stock market in the first period today. The speculative leaders were irregular at the opening, though higher prices were bid for United States Steel Common and the well-known motor shares, most of which had lost ground as the result of Monday's heavy selling movement.

Strong support was extended to the so-called pivotal stocks in the steel and motor groups.

The oil and copper stocks were steady, in the face of further price cutting in export gasoline and softening of the fuel oil market in New York Harbor.

it includes Dwight Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico, who has managed a marvelous betterment of relations between the Calles government in Mexico and the Coolidge administration in Washington.

It includes, too, although unofficially, Will Rogers, the cowboy humorist, who has become a sort of adjunct of the State Department since his missionary work in Mexico City. Rogers has dropped into Havana unofficially and unexplained but he has been warmly greeted by the American delegates. Later on, the American delegation will be supplemented by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the youthful American Ambassador of Goodwill to the entire world.

Decide On Future

Against such a back ground, the heads of the 21 delegations met today to decide the future of the congress. Of necessity most of the work must be done in committees, and it is in these committees that the trouble—if—any will eventuate.

Some of the delegates from some of the countries represented in Havana want the committee meetings in the open. Mexico and Hayti and Salvador are understood to have prepared various resolutions defining what constitutes "intervention." These resolutions would condemn, by inference, such episodes as the present activity of the United States marines in Nicaragua. The sponsors of these resolutions want the fighting and the argument to be in the open and are talking of Woodrow Wilson's famous phrase "open covenants openly arrived at."

Will Evade Politics

The American delegation intends to stand upon the historic ground that a Pan-American congress is not a body for the discussion of political subjects, and endeavors to keep the discussion within the traditional bounds of non-controversial subjects such as commercial relations, exchanges or professors, the betterment of communication and the cultural advancement of Latin-American states.

The American delegates feel that even these subjects should be discussed behind closed doors, as usual, and plenary sessions held only when a decision has been reached which can be communicated to a waiting world through the medium of an open meeting. There is every indication that the policy favored by the Washington delegation will win and the sixth conference of American States will follow the course of its predecessors—all controversies threshed out in private and all agreements publicly broadcast.

Gets Good Start

It is conceded, however, that this conference has got away to an auspicious start because of the unprecedented visit of Mr. Coolidge. For the first time in history an American president has come into the Caribbean country and assured the somewhat suspicious states of Latin-America that the United States wants nothing from them except friendship and cordial relations. Other presidents have said as much, but Mr. Coolidge is the first to ever make the pronouncement in the capital of a Latin-American country.

Appreciation Shown.

That he Latin-Americans appreciate this has been demonstrated in countless ways during the hectic 36 hours visit of the North American president. It has been demonstrated by the tremendous crowds that have attended his every appearance, by the showers of roses that have rained from the balconies of the old city, and by the cordiality of Latin-American officialdom in general. The Coolidges have created what the diplomatics call "an atmosphere."

Comething of this was seen in President Machado's brief speech at the great state banquet to President Coolidge last night when he said, addressing the chief delegates to the congress:

"Under singular and happy auguries you are about to initiate your labors. Gentlemen delegates, perhaps you will not this time reach your goal; however, we shall be drawn closer to one another, for we preserve our faith in the principles and the idea that providence destined our hemisphere to be the new and mammoth temple erected to democracy, justice and concord."

Deeply Interested.

All South and Central America is deeply interested in the proceedings of the conference. The fact is attested by the unusual number of Latin-American correspondents present in Havana. One of these submitted a questionnaire to Mr. Hughes seeking to elicit the views of America's chief delegate on the events of the past 48 hours.

The correspondent asked Mr. Hughes three questions. (1) What he considered the chief note of Mr. Coolidge's speech, (2) What the chief note of President Machado's speech and lastly where Mr. Hughes thought the conference was heading?

Mr. Hughes responded that he thought the dominant note in Mr. Coolidge's speech was his stressing the fact that all the peoples of the New World have the same heritage, traditions and aspirations and that consequently they should chart their course "toward complete understanding and friendship."

As for the Machado speech Mr. Hughes thought that his emphasis on friendship and good will was the predominant note and in reply to the question as to where the conference was heading the chief delegate for the United States said:

"My expectations are that this conference will make firmer the ties of a true fraternity of equal states co-operation the benefit of all."

Thieves Steal Auto Radiator But Leave Car

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Jan. 17.—Robert E. Fess, local insurance man, parked his automobile beneath his bedroom window last night and awoke this morning to find the car still there, if a machine without a radiator can be called an automobile.

During the night thieves made away with the entire cooling system. Auto mechanics state that it takes almost an hour to disconnect a radiator and the fact that the thieves worked without waking Fess puzzles local police.

Believe Hold-up Attempt Is Made

Rev. Fr. A. J. Weisenberger Reports Unusual Incident At Rectory Last Night

Experience of Rev. Fr. A. J. Weisenberger, pastor of St. Joseph's church, at the rectory, South Jefferson street, last night about seven o'clock with a strange young man of about 20 years who came to his door, indicates that an attempt to hold up Father Weisenberger, was planned.

About seven o'clock, Father Weisenberger was seated in his office in the rectory, talking to William Fullwood. A ring came to the front door and Father Weisenberger left the office, and went to the front door of the rectory.

On the door being opened, the young man went in and stating that he needed help, said that he was from Jamestown, N. Y. He insisted on showing Father Weisenberger an incision of a recent operation on the stomach and when Father Weisenberger insisted that he should have a letter of introduction from his priest, the young man showed great anger.

He was lunging at Father Weisenberger, who figured that an assault was about to be made on him by the young man, who had a criminal look, as William Fullwood hearing the commotion rushed out of the office and into the hall.

In self protection, Father Weisenberger took hold of the young man and managed to push him out and close the door. William Fullwood then followed the young man and saw him get his overcoat in a nearby store, where he had evidently left it. Following him to Washington and Jefferson street, Fullwood saw Officers Ritty and Golis and enlisted their services. The young man was trailed across the public square where he managed to make his escape.

He is described as having a light colored cap, a sandy colored suit and being between twenty and twenty-three years of age.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Democratic hopes of forcing consideration of the tax reduction bill before March 15 were wiped out today when the senate finance committee voted to defer action on the measure until after that date.

The vote in the committee was on strict party lines, all the Republicans favoring further postponement and the Democrats voting for immediate consideration. It was decided to give precedence to the allen propety bill hearing on which will open Monday.

Chamberlin Plans Fourth Attempt To Set New Air Record

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Clarence Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic aviator, who failed in his attempt to break the world's duration flying record, will make a fourth attempt within the next few months if flying engagements do not prevent.

Chamberlin, who was preparing today for his lecture tour beginning next Thursday, said that he hoped to make another try at the record with Roger Q. Williams in the near future. He said he would like to get two weeks free so that he could make "proper preparations".

Ice gathering on the wings of the new Bellanca monoplane, ruined the latest attempt of Chamberlin and Williams at the endurance record held by German aviators. They were forced to land in a sleet storm three and one-half hours after they took off from Curtiss field.

Slight Accidents Reported To Police

Anderson Lutton, 908 West Washington street reported to the police Monday that he was driving west on East Washington street at East street. He was about to make a turn onto East street when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 447-613 going in same direction made a turn onto Neshannock avenue at the same time. The cars came together and were damaged.

C. R. Burchfield of 1212 East Washington street, reported Monday that he was going south on North Mill street at North street when the front bumper struck a girl by the name of Nelson aged 5 and a resident of Crescent street. She was picked up by bystanders. She did not appear to be injured.

Mike Fontanella of Koppel, reported Monday that he was driving west on Cherry street and a car bearing Pennsylvania license 960-058 going west on Liberty street struck and damaged his machine.

Vance McCormick Outlines Program For Election Laws

Eight-Fold Program For Changes In Election Laws Are Advanced Today

ADVOCATES LIMIT TO EXPENDITURES

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—Vance C. McCormick, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and member of the executive committee of the Pennsylvania Elections Association, today outlined an eight-fold program of proposed changes in the state's election laws, before the state election law commission meeting here.

The Harrisburg publisher termed the state's election laws, "inadequate" and asked the commission to advocate the use of the voting machine. He also advocated limitation of campaign expenditures on a basis of the number of voters.

McCormick's proposals included:

(1)—Make inspection of suspected ballot boxes easier.

(2)—Make the voters' assistance law more rigid.

(3)—Compel all voters to sign the lists before casting a ballot.

(4)—Permanent registration, properly safeguarded.

(5)—Mandatory reports of suspected frauds to district attorneys by county officials.

—Public inspection of all elections records.

(7)—A corrupt practices act limiting campaign expenditures based on the number of voters.

(8)—Jail sentences for violations of election laws.

Sharpsville School Superintendent Is Resigning Position

Knocks Out Rheumatic Agony In 5 Days

McKee's Kut Rate Store Offers Trial Of Wonder Working Capsules On Money Back Basis.

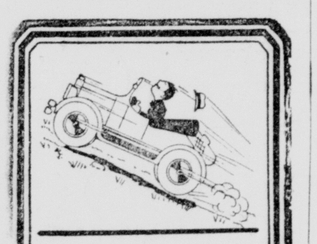

Why men and women will go on suffering terrible rheumatic agony and run the risk of being permanently crippled and helpless is beyond all understanding, say druggists, when a few days use of those little wonder capsules Allenrhu No. 2 will bring glorious relief and quickly clear up every twinge and ache—even for those who have been victims for years.

To back up this statement, to prove to every sufferer of rheumatic torture in this county that the claims for Allenrhu Number 2 are not exaggerated in any way. McKee's Kut Rate Store and every druggist who is dispensing this quick-acting remedy make this offer—a fair and square offer if ever one was made:

If after using Allenrhu Number 2 Capsules as directed for 5 days there is a pain or ache left—if you are not free from rheumatic distress your money will be promptly refunded without comment.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Ministers of New Castle are the guests of Rev. Sam Maitland this afternoon, at Greenwood Methodist Episcopal church, at one of the unique religious events in the annual history of the county—the spiritual birthday anniversary of Rev. Maitland. This is the twenty-fifth annual anniversary and as such is being fittingly observed.

We have noticed a rather peculiar condition recently. Autos that are splashed with mud, seem to be worse coated along the right side. One would naturally think that the splashing would be on the left side, and would occur when another car is passed, but it seems that this is not true. In fact, the left side of the car seems to almost completely escape the splashing.

Announcement that the Lehigh Portland Cement Company plant is to resume operation in full, at once, is pleasing news to many in New Castle. It is also indicated that increased operations are near for other industries of the city, general business conditions indicating a revival in industry in the immediate future.

This is the big night! New Castle printers are celebrating with a banquet at The Castleton. From the boss down to the printer's devil, they'll all be there.

Safety first means something to New Castle and Lawrence county workmen. With the steel and tin mills making a nation-wide record for safety, it is now developed that the Pennsy men on the E. and A. Division are leading the entire Pennsylvania Railroad system in the matter of safety, and the Lehigh Portland Cement company workmen have also added their record for no accidents during the year, to the local record. Fine work!

A diver is not simply "dropped overboard" to fall almost like a stone to the bottom of the sea. Heals Eczema In 7 Days or Less

Or Your Money Back

Here is a surgeon's wonderful prescription now dispensed by pharmacists at trifling cost, that will do more towards helping you get rid of unsightly spots and skin diseases than anything you've ever used.

Not only does this great healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds, but boils, abcesses and ulcers that are discharging are almost immediately relieved and cleanly healed.

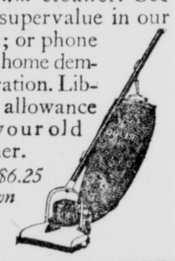

In skin diseases its action is little less than magical. The itching of eczema is instantly stopped; the eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of barbers' itch, salt rheum and other irritating and unsightly skin troubles.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. It is safe to use, and failure in any of the ailments noted above is next to impossible. McKee's Kut Rate Store, New Castle Drug Co., McKinley & Frantz, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. can supply you at any time.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

It's a good thing to disagree once in a while, for it seems to me that a great deal of what we learn, we learn through views of people who disagree with us.

Met one of my disagreeing friends last night. Not disagreeable understand, disagreeing for in all the years I have known him, there have been but few times that we agreed on but one thing and that one thing, that we were friends.

Many a night have we surrounded a flock of coffees in one of these all night restaurants and argued until long after we should have been home in bed. Often the argument waxed so warm that the proprietor began to have visions of the gendarmes having to be called. And always we parted with the same ideas as we started with.

But last night things were strangely different. Perhaps the time which has intervened since last I saw him has mellowed the views of both of us. He has receded from some of his extreme views, and I perhaps have advanced a bit from some of mine.

At any rate he left this thought as a final something to think over. "Inherently we all will employ the same tactics to arrive at our goal. All of us set up an imaginary finishing line and in order to get to it we will use the same ruthless tactics of beating down the opposition."

My fiend seems to hold with the belief that all motives are selfish. And ever since I left him I have been wondering if what he says hasn't some truth in it?

This banquet for Alec Fox seems to have caught the fancy of the fans with as much enthusiasm as a game between New Castle and South High would. A committee was held last night and the boys are all set to put it over.

The banquet will be Saturday night and because of lack of accommodations, there will be room for but two hundred. If you want to be there you'll have to act quickly.

There used to be a tree on Mercer street just above the News office. You remember how it used to impede your vision of the World's Series score board. They took the tree away but there has been a hole there ever since. And I hope some old lady doesn't come along some dark night and step into the hole and twist her ankle.

For genuine good news, that story on the starting of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company stacks up as about the best piece in some weeks. It means that a lot of fellows are going to get back to work. It means that the stacks out at plant three will soon be pouring out smoke. And it means that Wes Davy will have to get back into the harness and have much less time for talking about fur-bearing fish up in Novia Scotia waters.

'Nuther boxing bout last night. Plenty of action, plenty of cheering and everybody got their money's worth.
